Viewers Fail To Identify Slain Woman

Against Blank Wall, Says Wyandot Sheriff; Autopsy Report Due

UPPER SANDUSKY — Wyandot County Sheriff Dean McAllister was confronted over the weekend with over two dozen persons seeking to identify the body of the young nightgown-clad mystery woman found stabbed to death along a deserted country road Friday.

Inquiries about the young brunet were still pouring into the sheriff's office today, but the descriptions of missing persons failed to tally with that of the young girl.

Await Autopsy Report

A report from University Hospital in Columbus, where Prof. Emmerick Van Haam, pathologist, performed the autopsy late Saturday, was to be released sometime today. The body was removed to the Bringman and Co. Funeral Home in Upper Sandusky where only persons with a permit from Sheriff McAllister and accompanied by a deputy are permitted to view the body.

Some of the persons viewing the body said they thought they recognized her, but all said they were convinced by the scars and marks that she was not their missing relative. Persons from throughout the nation, from as far away as California, Florida and Minnesota, have compared descriptions of missing relatives with that of the "Wyandot mystery woman."

The young woman's body was found Friday afternoon on a lonely gravel road, three miles north of Upper Sandusky. A Wyandot County road employe spotted the body about 15 yards from the stone road on which he was traveling and notified the sheriff.

Between 18-25 Years Old

The girl, about 18-25 years old, weighing between 118 and 135 pounds, and about five feet, four inches tall, was clad in a light blue flannel nightgown which came just below her knees. She wore low-heeled red shoes Her face was badly mutilated by about 20 stab wounds, although McAllister said there were no wounds or bruises on her body. The girl had dark brown hair, auburn tinted, brown eyes and suntanned skin.

After an undertaker attempted to restore the girl's face to a near-likeness of what she looked like before death, a photograph was taken and is being used by officers in the attempt to identify her.

"We're up against a blank wall," Sheriff McAllister said, "but we intend to show the picture to motel operators and others throughout the area. We hope that someone will recognize her as having stayed at their place."

'Very Pretty,' Sheriff Says

McAllister described the woman as being "very pretty." A funeral director's examination of the body showed scars which may be helpful in establishing identification, he said. "These scars may not have been visible when the woman was living," McAllister said. "The injuries which caused the scars probably were suffered when the victim was young. Relatives may recall circumstances of the scars".

First reports that the "mystery woman" might be the English war bride of a Cleveland man were discounted when the man was unable to identify her.

A Dayton couple who viewed the body told the sheriff that they were sure it was not their 18-year-old daughter, who drove off Thursday in her car

William M. Caves, assistant administrator at University Hospital, said doctors reported the victim had been criminally attacked before she was killed The official autopsy report was not due until this afternoon and deputies at the Wyandot County office said their department would be the first to receive the report

Claimed Hiding in Europe

Beria Escape? McCarthy Agents Start Hot Rumor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy's investigations subcommittee hopes to know within a few days, an informed source said today, whether a mysterious figure who claims to be Lavrenty Beria really is the deposed Kremlin police boss.

The Wisconsin Republican has refused to be quoted on the matter at all.

A person familiar with the Senate group's operations said, however, that investigators are convinced Beria has escaped from Russia and is hiding, in terror of his life, in a neutral European country.

Other government sources, also asking not to be quoted by name, were skeptical, saying the chances of Beria's having escaped from behind the Iron Curtain were "one in a million."

The Senate source said today "a new man has gone over who will know him if it is Beria," and that a report from this person can be expected within a few days.

This source said the man who calls himself Beria had been contacted by agents of McCarthy's subcommittee and had sought political asylum in the United States in exchange for disclosure of Russian secrets.

Officials in the executive branch of the government said they knew nothing which would lead them to believe Beria, former head of the Russian secret police, has managed to get out of Russia. At the same time, it was made clear this government would be glad to receive any man who knows as many of the Kremlin's secrets as Beria does.

So far as is known in the West, Beria was last seen in public in Moscow on May 1. Soviet Premier Malenkov denounced him as a traitor July 9 and ousted him from his posts as home minister and first deputy chairman of the Council of Ministers.

His name has not been mentioned in the Russian press or radio in recent weeks, and there has been no recent mention of any trial. This has led to some speculation here that he may already have been executed.

The Senate source said an agent of McCarthy's subcommittee had flown to a "neutral, non-Communist country" in Europe and, after talking with the purported Beria, reported he is convinced the man is who he says he is. It was then, he said, that another agent who could identify Beria was sent.

This source predicted that the State Department would issue a statement about the whole matter shortly. But a department spokesman said he did not know anything about the Beria case.

Texas Convict Doesn't Need Wings of Angel

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Convict Barney Thurman flies over the Texas Prison walls as easily as inmates singing "The Prisoner's Song" dream about it. Then he jumps back inside—from 1,500 feet up.

He'll do it four times next month, with the warden's approval, as a stunt for the Texas Prison Rodeo.

The 22nd annual show will be held each Sunday in October. As usual, all performers in what is billed as the roughest rodeo in the world will be convicts.

Convicted of Forgery

Thurman, 28, arrived at the prison from Kilgore, Tex., last November on a forgery rap. About a month ago he became a trusty in the prison store.

Then he sent word to prison Gen. Manager O. B. Ellis that he knows nothing about riding broncs or brahman bulls but he sure would like to stand the customers' hair on end at the rodeo by making a parachute jump into the arena.

Thurman said that besides being a former welder and baseball pitcher, he's an ex-paratrooper who has made 37 military jumps, including one at a county fair, since leaving the service.

Gets CAA Okay

Ellis liked the idea of the rodeo jumps. He got approval from the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Thurman signed a waiver to protect the prison system in case anything goes wrong in his weekly leaps from 1,500 feet.

Thurman made a practice jump yesterday—his first in two years. He'll make another next sunday.

Gen. Dean Leaves Via Plane for U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, the prize prisoner of the Communists for more than three years, left today for the United States with 10 other Americans on a regularly scheduled flight.

Eight of his fellow passengers were also prisoners of the Communists who were returned in Operation Big Switch. The other two were soldiers whose illnesses required medical care in the United States.

"It was a regularly scheduled flight," an officer said. "The general wanted it that way."

The 54-year-old Medal of Honor winner said goodbye at the airport to Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Forces commander, a long-time friend.

Also at Tokyo's international airport was Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, U.N. deputy chief, who signed the armistice agreement that preceded Big Switch.

North Korean Escapes, Flies MIG to Seoul

Daring Refugee Pilot Qualifies on $100,000 Offer for Jet Fighter

SEOUL (AP)—A daring North Korean pilot today handed the Allies a sleek MIG15 jet fighter — the deadly Red warplane for which the United States offered $100,000 last February.

The MIG's guns were still armed when it raced unheralded from North Korea and made a perfect landing at sprawling Kimpo Air Base near Seoul.

It was the first MIG to fall into Allied hands in Korea. The Russian-built, swept-wing fighters never left their own air over Red territory during the war.

The U.N. Command said the $100,000 reward offered for the first MIG to bolt to the Allies is still in effect.

Reds Silent

There was no quick reaction from the Communists.

At first the Allies refused to identify the flier, but later in Tokyo, Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Forces commander, said he was a North Korean.

Weyland announced:

The jet was from a "North Korean air unit."

It is being studied by U. S. Air Force officers.

The pilot's name will not be revealed unless he personally consents.

The North Korean will be granted asylum if he wants it.

The pilot disappeared behind a tight wall of secrecy and Kimpo Air Base was closed to everyone but authorized military personnel.

A psychological warfare colonel near Seoul said American Sabre jets met the MIG over the southern boundary of the demilitarized strip across the Korean peninsula and escorted the Red fighter to Seoul.

Caught by Surprise

However, the MIG apparently caught Kimpo Air Base by surprise.

A crowd scurried out to the runway after the plane stopped.

The pilot was described as short and black-haired.

An American pilot who met him said the flier pulled a picture of a girl from his blue flying suit and tore it up. The American pieced together the shreds of the

New England GOP Chiefs Welcome Ike

Boston Rally Tonight Will Open President's Speech-Making Tour

SPRINGFIELD, Mass (AP)—President Eisenhower arrived here today for two Massachusetts speeches—one at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield the other at a Republican rally in Boston tonight.

The presidential plane Columbine landed at nearby Westover Air Force Base at 9.59 a.m. EST.

Eisenhower was scheduled to speak informally at the exposition grounds Coliseum here after lunching with New England GOP leaders. His speech in Boston Garden tonight will be a major address in which he may reply to criticism of his administration by Adlai E. Stevenson and former President Truman.

Flies From Washington

Eisenhower flew here from Washington after a weekend at the White House. He returned to the capital Saturday night from a six-week vacation in Colorado

Eisenhower will speak at a Boston Garden rally from 8 30 to 9 p.m. (EST). Mutual Radio and ABC radio and Television scheduled the speech to be carried directly, while later rebroadcasts were arranged by NBC and CBS.

In advance of the speech, aides would say only that Eisenhower intends to outline the role he believes the Republican party should play on the American political scene.

May Answer Critics

But it seemed likely the President, in speaking at such a big party rally, would take some note of criticism fired at the administration during a Democratic get-together in Chicago last week by Truman and Stevenson, who was the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee.

Stevenson contended the administration was putting off action in fields where it had promised action—he called it "government by postponement."

Truman said a "wrecking crew" was at work in Washington and that it was up to the Democrats to save America and the world from "the road to ruin."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty has character-

Huge Plane Suffers $5 Million Damage When Dike Breaks

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—Howard Hughes has disclosed that a break of an earth dike at the harbor has caused damage of more than five million dollars to his gigantic wooden flying boat, the world's largest airplane.

The flying boat has been under experimental construction more than 10 years under a government contract It has a wing span of 320 feet and is 219 feet long. The plane weighs more than 200 tons and its tail is as tall as a two-story building. It is designed for a passenger capacity of 700.

The earth dike had been constructed by a dredging company to retain material pumped from the harbor bottom.

The hangar of the eight-engine plane was flooded with thousands of tons of mud, silt and water.

Mortgage Credit Pinch Felt

Administration's Sound Dollar Hard on Housing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Administrator Albert M Cole said today the government may take "direct action" unless private mortgage credit is available to sustain reasonably high home building activity.

Cole's address, prepared for the American Bankers Assn. at its 79th convention here, was the first official acknowledgment of government concern—and surprise—over the housing slowdown. Many builders have blamed a shortage of credit.

Sharp Decline Feared

New home starts in August, Cole reported, were down to a rate of 970,000 a year, not seriously below the 1,127,000 in 1952. But a sharper future decline is indicated by a drop in current applications for Federal Housing Administration (FHA) mortgage insurance, he said

This may mean some difficulty next year, the head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency went on, in keeping residential construction up to a level consistent with a sound economy. He told the bankers.

Urges Consideration

"I submit to you the very serious reminder that if we are unable to maintain a reasonably high continuing volume of home production—which means an adequate continuing flow of mortgage credit—we may be required to resort to some means of assistance to avoid unnecessary wrenches to our entire economy. . . .

"On this somewhat sober note I

Answer Allied Demand

Communists Deny They Hold Additional POW's

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists said today most of the 3,404 Allied troops for whom the U.N. Command demanded an accounting, "have never been captured at all."

At the same time, the Communists demanded an accounting for 98,742 North Koreans and Chinese they said were captured by the Allies and are missing.

Reply Long in Coming

The Reds' gave their long-awaited answer to the Sept. 9 Allied demand that the Communists produce the men or disclose what happened to them at a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission.

The missing troops—more than 900 Americans, 2,400 South Koreans and nearly 50 from the British Commonwealth and other Allied nations—were once believed captured but neither released in the prisoner exchange nor reported dead.

519 Already Returned

The Reds called the Allied list "crudely manufactured without having been carefully checked," but reserved the right "to make further concrete comment."

The Reds said 519 of the 3,404 Allies listed as missing already have been returned. They said 380 others were "released at the front" during the war, had escaped, or are dead.

They said part of the remainder refused repatriation but "most of (the total) have never been captured at all."

The Reds are expected to deliver to the demilitarized zone Thursday more than 300 South Korean and about 20 non-Korean prisoners not otherwise identified who they say refused repatriation. The following day, U.N. Command interview teams are expected to start trying to persuade them to return home, in accordance with the armistice terms.

About 23,000 North Korean and Chinese POWs have refused repatriation.

Will End Wednesday

The Allies by Monday night expected to have transferred all but about 2,300 anti-Red North Koreans and a handful of Chinese into custody of Indian troops in the demilitarized zone. The deliveries were to end Wednesday.

Communist teams will try to persuade the 23,000 to return home, starting at the same time as the Allied teams.

5 Burglaries Reported Here By City Police

A rash of burglaries hit Marion over the weekend. A total of five were reported.

Dominic Sansotta, owner of Crown Jewelers, 415 W Center St., reported at 9:36 this morning someone forced the rear door of his store, then broke through a wall of one of the back rooms into the main part of the store.

The person or persons then looted one of the display windows taking an undetermined amount of jewelry. He has not made an estimate of the loss.

At 8 40 this morning, a business establishment at 713 Wilson Ave., owned by Lowell Guthrie, was reported to have been entered by persons who broke the rear windows The office was ransacked. Only loss reported was 10 to 15 cents and some postage stamps.

Guthrie told police the break-in occurred sometime between 7 p.m. Sunday and 8:30 this morning.

Police believe children were responsible for the break-in as they reported the theft of two spinner wheels from a tricycle in the yard next to the business place.

The theft of the wheels was reported by a Mrs. Monk of 699 Wilson Ave. The value is not known.

A typewriter valued at $65 was taken from the office of Mack Lee at 193½ W. Center St. The machine was taken sometime between 4:30 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. today by persons who gained entrance by forcing open the front door.

The Lockwood Lumber Co. was also broken into. Details of the incident were not complete at press-time.

Act Quickly, U.N. Urged By Vishinsky

Soviet Delegate Also Insists Neutrals Must Sit in on Korea Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia called upon the U. N. today to impose an unconditional ban on the production of atomic and hydrogen weapons without delay.

The Soviet proposal was laid before the 60-nation General Assembly during a major policy declaration by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

The Soviet delegate also served notice that Russia was ready to make a vigorous fight to get the Assembly to revise its earlier decision barring neutral countries as representatives at the Korean peace conference. The Communist demands on this, he said, are justified and must be met.

Included Hydrogen

The Soviet proposals on atomic control included hydrogen weapons by name, but otherwise followed closely Soviet disarmament resolutions of previous sessions.

Vishinsky assailed the United States as the real cause of world tension, charged Western policy in Germany threatened to touch off a new war and declared the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was aimed at weakening the U. N.

The Soviet disarmament resolution—first Soviet move on this subject since the death of Stalin and the accession of Georgi Malenkov to power—had four points:

1. Immediate and unconditional prohibition of the atomic and hydrogen bombs with the Security Council — where Russia has the veto—to supervise compliance.

2. Immediate one-third reduction by the big five—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and China—in their armed forces with a conference shortly afterwards to discuss reduction of the armed forces of other countries.

3. Dismantling of military bases maintained in foreign countries. This was an obvious reference to the United States for Vishinsky had denounced U.S. bases overseas earlier in his speech.

4. Condemnation of propaganda tending to stimulate warlike psychosis.

Counter to Pact

The Soviet delegate told the 60-nation General Assembly the decision taken by the Assembly last month ran counter to the armistice agreement in recommending that only countries representing the two belligerents should take part in the parley.

"The recommendation of this Assembly must be brought into comformity with the armistice agreement," he said.

The United States has insisted the armistice restricted the representation in the peace conference to the two sides, but the Russians have sought to make it a roundtable affair by inviting India and other so-called neutrals.

Vishinsky spoke from notes. In the past when he has not had a prepared text it indicated he had received new instructions too late for inclusion in a written speech.

The Soviet delegate attacked the position of the United States as "obdurate." He said Secretary of State Dulles had adopted the policy of South Korean President Syngman Rhee and was doing everything possible "to thwart consideration of this question at the present session."

Dulles Listens Closely

Dulles listened intently as Vishinsky assailed what he called the "intolerant attitude" of the United States in opposing Indian participation in the peace conference.

"The United States has proved time and again it will not hesitate to thwart the interests of states who want to walk their own paths," the Soviet delegate said.

Turning to Dulles' appeal last week for the Communists to show by deeds that they really want peace, Vishinsky said it was the United States that was preventing a lessening of world tension.

As an example of the U. S. attitude, he cited the American opposition to the seating of Red China in the U.N.

"Such a policy to thwart the legitimate demands of the Chinese people is doomed to failure," he said.

He added:

"The enemies of peace called for peace, but they set so many conditions as to make them barren."

Vishinsky stated Russia has no territorial claims on any state "and that includes the neighbors

Record Pool Year Noted at Mt. Gilead

Special to The Star

MT GILEAD — The Mt. Gilead Municipal Swimming Pool had a record-shattering year according to Sid Tennant, chairman.

Admissions totaled 17,927 for the year, or almost 7,000 more than the previous high year last year. Receipts amounted to $5,552 or nearly $1,000 more than the previous best year. Receipts were not up by a bigger percentage because of the great increase in the number of family season tickets.

The pool has been drained and equipment put away. The area east of the pool and the area around the tennis courts have been seeded and fertilized. The west bank of the football field and the area west of the pool will be seeded later this year.

Members of the recreation board will meet with school officials and representatives of the Kiwanis Club in regards to blacktopping or cementing the tennis courts next Thursday. Coordination of school and recreation board activities will also be discussed.

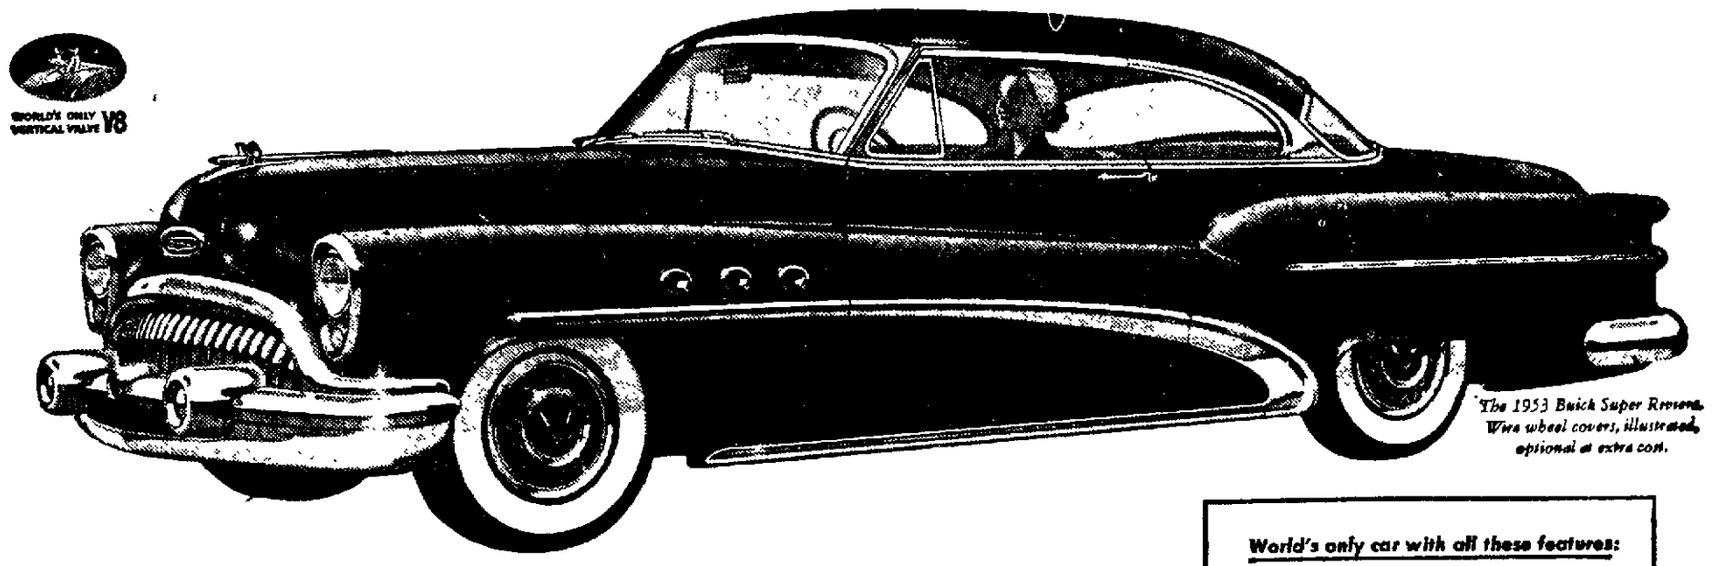
New word for GETAWAY } "TT" DYNAFLOW*!



The 1953 Buick Super Riviera. Wire wheel covers, illustrated, optional at extra cost.

We'll get right to the point.

The comments we've been getting from new Buick owners about the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow are terrific.

And the reason is—this fully automatic transmission is, in itself, terrific.

It has a new, firm, solid "take-hold"—gives you instant getaway response.

It has new quiet—you can barely hear the acceleration build-up.

It has unique and utter simplicity of operation. You just move your Selector into Drive range, press the pedal, and go. That's all.

But the sweetest thing of all about this TT Dynaflow is its smoothness.

You move from standstill to your legal speed in one progressive build-up of power delivery.

You feel a constant "carry" of forward motion, unbroken in any way—because here no gear-shifting takes place, either manually or automatically.

Even your deceleration is infinitely smooth and gradual, with the cushioned control of flowing oil slowing down.

Wouldn't you like to sample this wonderful new getaway and pleasant quiet and immaculate smoothness?

We'll be glad to seat you at the wheel of a new 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow—and let the thrills come where they may. Drop in soon, won't you?

Pair Escape Wooster Jail, Beat Deputy

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Two men awaiting trial broke from the Wayne County jail yesterday after a sheriff's deputy was badly beaten.

Police said Barrell D. Pfouts, 22, of Shreve, mauled H. B. Graber, a sheriff's deputy, while Graber was in a cell block passing out towels and soap, as 10 other prisoners looked on.

Then Pfouts and Joseph M. Boyle, 34, who gave addresses in Pennsylvania and New York, took a key from Graber and fled the jail, according to police.

Boyle was being held on auto theft charges, and Pfouts, who is AWOL from the Army, was awaiting trial on charges of cutting with intent to kill.

Clevelander Kills 2, Self With Pistol

CLEVELAND (AP) — A man convicted of strangling his wife with a scarf in 1945 while on furlough from the Air Force shot and killed a husband and wife yesterday afternoon then fired shots which ended his own life.

The gunman was Frank Likar, 33, who, police said, was paroled from the Ohio Reformatory in Mansfield in February 1951, after serving five years for strangling his wife in an argument over old love affairs.

His victims were Bernard Hinger, 39, a Ford Motor Co. plant worker, and Hinger's wife, Josephine, 32. Police said Likar carried in his wallet a picture of Mrs. Hinger who had dated him but had broken off the relationship.

The Hingers were visiting Bernard's sister, Mrs. Ella Quashnefski, at the time of the shooting. Mrs. Quashnefski told police:

"We were just starting to leave when this man (Likar) came in the kitchen door and stared at us. Then he laughed and said 'Barney, this is it' and fired."

She said the German pistol made a deafening roar and she saw Hinger stumble into the dining room clutching his side. Mrs. Hinger ran screaming into the back yard, and Likar followed her, firing a shot into her back.

Likar then fired into his own head shots which caused his death today. Hinger lived only two hours, and his wife an hour longer.

Goodyear Contract Ratified by Union

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An agreement between Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers, CIO, won approval on a second vote yesterday by members of the Akron Goodyear local.

On a voice vote by about 2,000 members, the agreement was approved by "at least 95 per cent," said a union official.

It had been turned down 10 days ago at a meeting attended by about 250 members, some of whom said they believed it would put an end to the Goodyear Relief Assn. The association is a voluntary organization formed more than 30 years ago for pensions and other benefits.

The wage agreement was a "package" settlement amounting to about 12 cents an hour, partly in wage increases and partly in increased insurance and pension benefits.

Compromise Can Be Fatal

The pattern of compromise is so familiar in American thought that its limitations are easily forgotten.

There can be no compromise with evil.

There can be no compromise with principle.

There can be no compromise, as far as government is concerned, with any government which has dedicated itself to the destruction of the United States.

A few days ago, the United States Army was ordered to quit making deals on the New York waterfront with racketeers in order to avert work stoppages in military operations. It had been making compromises with evil.

During the last few years of its long sojourn in the seats of power, the bureaucracy which had grown up under two Democratic administrations was caught making deals with citizens reluctant to pay taxes. That was a compromise with principle.

Adlai E. Stevenson, the urbane gentleman who aspires to be recognized as the No. 1 Democrat, told a party gathering recently he thought there was danger of being too "inflexible" in relations with Russia. He seemed to be thinking of the possibility of mutual concessions.

That would be a compromise with a government dedicated to the destruction of the United States. It is of he utmost importance in this respect that he United States is not dedicated to the destruction of the Soviet Union. This government goes into every negotiation at a disadvantage, in the sense that it acts in good faith whereas the Russians are bound by no scruples.

Appeasement has come and gone and ebbed and flowed like sickness in men's minds these last few years. It is no more, no less than the spirit of compromise applied in the wrong places.

If the Wolf Comes

Civil Defense Asministration, in another flurry of anxiety, has published a list of critical target areas which would be plastered by the enemy in event of war.

Every American city that makes anything more important than strawberry tarts is likely to be hurt if the wolf comes.

It is obvious, moreover, that the probable enemy who would do the probable bombing has more places on its list than CDA has on its list, because the CDA list does not include every target worth hitting.

Yet, publication of the list is not going to stimulate an outpouring of citizens anxious to enlist in some branch of civil defense. Since that is the only conceivable aim of publishing it, the result is going to be a disappointment to CA and those who share its anxiety.

Once more they will wonder why they can't persuade large numbers of Americans to take the steps necessary to save their skins in the event of war.

The main reason is that too few Americans have been convinced so far that war is probable. They concede it is possible but not probable. They will believe the wolf is coming when they see him.

The secondary reason is that too many Americans are convinced in their own minds that in the kind of atomic war they have been warned about there would be no chance of survival anyway. Imagination has outstripped reality, perhaps.

There is a project under development in Washington to tell the people what the best minds in government think should be generally known about survival in the atomic age. This would be a high-level presentation of facts for the people's benefit.

Perhaps a full-fledged civil defense effort will grow out of this kind of detailed knowledge. It has not grown out of the haphazard knowledge available so far.

Three Conclusions

When the loose ends of the Durkin episode in the history of the Eisenhower administration are tied up, three conclusions will loom larger than the rest.

1. The appointment of Martin Durkin was a political blunder. It did not take into account the inability of the appointee to relent from his previously determined intent to repeal the Labor-Management Act. That was a decision for Congress, not an executive officer. Mr. Durkin should not have accepted an appointment which he never should have been offered.

2. The presidential advisers who, with or without President-elect Eisenhower's knowledge, made a commitment which could be honored only by coercing Congress into doing something against its legislative nature, made themselves expendable. When Congress reconvenes and its members ferret out the identity of these people who thought the White House could repeal the Labor-Management Act, they will have to be handed their hats lest the White House lose more prestige than it already has lost.

3. The fouled-up scheme for having President Eisenhower send a message to Congress which would call in effect for repeal of the Labor-Management Act was disclosed when The Wall Street Journal obtained and published a copy of the recommendations which Mr. Durkin and others wanted the President to make. The scheme then fell through with a thud. A press free to seek information and publish its findings averted a serious blunder which would have been made in the name of popular sovereignty but contrary to the spirit of popular sovereignty.

Two Good Men Needed

By James Marlow

Ike Hunts Chief Justice, Labor Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is shopping around for two men to fill a couple of important jobs and, if he had to run an ad for them, this might be about it:

Wanted: One man, very thick-skinned, to be secretary of labor, salary $22,500; another, expert on injured feelings, as Chief Justice of the United States, salary $25,500. No clock-watchers need apply.

The new secretary of labor will have a busy year ahead of him, with long hours of work and no assurance that all his efforts won't end in smoke. He's almost sure to be a target for criticism.

Long hours go with the job of chief justice. After his day on the bench, in his ofice, in conference with the other justices, he has to take his work home with him.

The late Justice Vinson was an extraordinarily well-rounded man, with experience in Congress, in the executive branch and as judge in the U.S. Court of Appeals before he took over the Supreme Court's top job.

But he had an added virtue which was badly needed when former President Truman picked him: He was good at soothing injured feelings. At the time Vinson took over, there were differences among some of the other eight justices—personal as well as juridical differences.

It was a tribute to his ability as a doctor of personality that no more internal explosions were heard after he moved into the court.

The new man will have that old problem to consider since Vinson probably didn't remove the ailment—just reduced the inflammation.

In other years the job of secretary of labor was a kind of mild occupation, particularly during the war years when Frances Perkins held it.

In that period President Franklin D. Roosevelt set up the War Labor Board, under William H. Davis. It controlled wages and labor disputes, and thus Miss Perkins was left on the sidelines.

In the last years of the Truman administration, then Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin was overshadowed by John R. Steelman whom Truman brought into the White House as his labor adviser, pulled the strings.

Unless Eisenhower also gets a string-pulling labor adviser, the new secretary will have his hands full from the start.

He'll have to work with Congress, unions, management and the White House in trying to change the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act. On that subject he can't please everyone.

It is almost certain the new secretary won't come from organized labor, as did his predecessor, Martin P. Durkin, president of the AFL Plumbers' Union. That would make him suspect by organized labor from the start.

Eisenhower said during the presidential campaign and in his February State of the Union message to Congress, that there was need for T-H Law changes.

But anyone who knew Washington and politics and the intense feeling over T-H—in Congress, unions and business—would have been surprised if any changes had been made this year.

T-H was passed in 1947 while the Republicans controlled Congress. In 1948 Truman won election on a platform promising to blast T-H. For the next four years the Democrats were in charge of Congress. But they didn't, or couldn't, blast T-H.

During his eight months as secretary, Durkin worked to find changes which Congress, unions, business and the White House would approve. He acted like a man who thought he was getting some place.

Then he quit, voicing frustration. The White House, he said, had broken an agreement reached with him to back 19 proposed T-H changes.

Durkin's successor will need a thicker skin.

The AFL, which seemed fairly restrained about administration delay in suggesting T-H changes while Durkin was on the scene, has now officially exploded at Eisenhower.

AFL President George Meany last week accused Eisenhower of being a weak leader unable to stand up under big business pressure.

In view of what hasn't been done to change T-H through four years of Democratic administration and one of Republican, it should come as no surprise if no changes are made in 1954, either.

Views the News

By TRUMAN TWILL

With the return to duty of the world's only black tomcat that writes like a man, it becomes possible again to give readers a cat's eye view of the news.

The following paragraphs are loosely edited notes prepared by T. Manville Twill before he started on the night shift. As it always has been in the past, he is shifty character, especially after dark.

Foreign Affairs. The less said on this the better, except to say that if I had not knocked myself out going under a low board fence in Korea I would still be promoting international relations over there, such as your sisters, your brothers and your cousins who are numbered by the dozens. I disagree categorically with anyone named Stevenson who comes back to America and says we are not as popular abroad as we used to be. How popular did we used to be?

Hunting Season. Since it a fixed principle of conservation that a certain amount of game needs to be shot each year by sportsmen for the good of the game, I have no objection if the sportsmen shoot one another, as they will do once more during hunting season. Otherwise, this glorious land would be up to its armpits in sports.

Politics. About 16 per cent of the sterling voters of New York City turned out to vote in the primary last Tuesday and this was viewed with alarm by every editorial writer who hadn't turned off his alarm for another 40 winks. No one dares to speak the truth about primaries—that it's a miracle anyone turns out at all because they confront people with a choice between cold potatoes and cold potatoes. Anghhh, as the cats say in Korea.

Football. All the bones that are going to be broken and all the knees and heads that are going to be mashed before the season opens are now broken and mashed. From now on, the rate of attrition will increase the breaking and mashing begin for keeps. If cats did this to one another, they'd pass a law in the state legislature.

Sex among Humans. There are not so many snide remarks being made about sex among cats as were being made before I went abroad the last time to be gone three years. I attribute this to the thinking inspired by Kinsey, who has proved, that people had better look who's talking.

Rates of pay. These columns used to be worth 35 cents apiece. That was before inflation. They now are worth $3.50, which will cover inflation, plus increase in experience and competence and seniority. Don't give me any guff about 70 cents being enough either, because that would mean I had been standing still since the dollar began to shrink in value.

These were all the notes T.M.T. left for his first column.

Plain Citizens Help God Reforest U.S.

By Edward Nellor

WASHINGTON

For the first time in more than a decade, private forest-land owners are replanting their holdings at a rate surpassing reforestation financed by the federal government.

It is a trend both the present administration and private owners will continue to encourage, officials of the Department of Agriculture assert.

Since 1939, in every state in the Union, private forest-land owners surpassed federal and state tree planting, for a total of 8,240,379 acres.

During the prewar years of 1939-40-41 a total of 51 per cent of the reforestation in the nation was conducted by state and federal government agencies. Forty-nine per cent was paid for and undertaken by private owners.

Today's percentage figures reveal the wide shift in rebuilding the nation's forest lands. Seventy-nine per cent of the total acreage replanted in the years from 1950 through 1952 — 1,477,000 acres — was planted by private owners. Twenty-One per cent has been financed and conducted by state and federal government agencies during the same three-year period.

There are four states leading the nation in reforestation. Georgia leads with 49,000 acres replanted in 1952, Louisiana, 35,000 acres; Mississippi, 31,000 acres; and New York, with 30,500 acres.

Florida, Michigan, Arkansas, Alabama and South Carolina, during 1952, accounted for 101,000 total acres of reforestation between them.

Region-wise, the South now undertakes more private tree planting than any other area. In 1940, for instance, the total planting by both government and private owners, for the entire nation, was 519,000 acres.

In 1952 alone, the South accounted for 523,000, for which private reforestation activities total 45 per cent, or 236,000 acres, more than half the national total of 1940. A few years ago the South had no replanting activity.

The tree - planting forecast for this year and 1954 is another record breaker.

Reforestation by the end of 1954, or soon thereafter, may reach 750,000,000 new trees annually.

One Southern state will complete nursery construction for a 100,000,000 annual output of seedlings by the end of this year. Other states are shooting for goals of 50,000,000 seedlings annually.

The construction of tree-planting machinery and further experimentation with aerial planting is increasing. Private forest - range owners are conducting their own research in seeding rates, climatological factors and field preparation.

No over - all cost figures are available for the combined tree-planting spree now under way across the nation.

There are some soft spots in the record tree - planting year of 1952, the Department of Agriculture reported. None of the 48 states, either by private or public planting, has fallen below previous annual acreage plantings, but many could increase their activities, the federal agency asserts.

The over-all figures are "encouraging," Agriculture Department officials admit, lending weight to the hope that the nation's forests are on the comeback trail.

In Oregon, one of the great lumber-producing areas of the world, 1,207 acres of timberland was reforested during 1952 by individuals, schools and clubs.

Private timberland owners, in 1952, in Oregon, reforested 10,863 acres; the state reforested 17,627; towns, boroughs, counties and public schools accounted for 295 more acres.

During the same period the federal government financed and supervised the replanting of 11,251 acres by the forest service: plus 6,336 acres by the Department of the Interior, on public and Indian lands.

Enough seedlings were distributed to private and public reforestation projects in the 48 states during 1952, by the federal government, to reseed a total of 321,585,000 acres of land.

Delaware, Hawaii, Maryland and Puerto Rico obtained their seedlings free. Other states and territories paid total prices that averaged annually less than $6, mostly for shipping charges.

What it all adds up to, according to the Departmnet of Agriculture, the Forestry Service, and Department of the Interior, is that trees are growing in a lot more places than Brooklyn, in an ever-increasing number, mostly planted and paid for by private industry.

It is a reversal of a long-time trend in the nation and reveals that under government leadership private business interests have learned the value of keeping the nation green.

Welfare State in Distress

By Donald McCormick

LONDON

Several hundred thousand women of French North Africa, relaxing (as best their worry lets them) on the perfumed cushions of countless Moorish harems, are anxious about their social—and financial—security.

The ex-sultan of Morocco put the cat among the harem pigeons when he was exiled to Corsica and asked for 27 of his favorite ladies to be sent on to him.

The new sultan said he didn't want them. And that set the French government a pretty problem. Only 20 women went to Corsica.

Tradition rules that when a sultan dies (or "departs") the ladies of his harem must be cared for by his successor until they die. It's a job for life.

The same holds good in the households of lesser - fry like pashas, caliphs, tribal chiefs and merchants.

The ex-sultan's 27 ladies sent to Corsica will have the French government to pay for their keep.

If Papa Achmed died leaving 100 concubines — not unusual for a rich man — his son might say: "The ex-sultan doesn't support his predecessor's household. Why should I? Let the ladies fend for themselves — or go begging to the French."

No wonder the harem girls are worried. Imagine what would happen if these women, who have led sheltered lives in their closely guarded, heavily perfumed quarters, were suddenly told to go and earn their living.

They'd be unemployable. Sitting on cushions, sipping mint tea and eating rosewater cakes is no training for work.

Many of the women are octogenarians, brought into the harems by the great - grandfathers of the present heads of households.

The harem system, rightly or wrongly, is probably the oldest example in the world of the welfare state.

Sitting Bull Can Now Rest

By MARK DANA

North and South Dakota are still wrangling with tongue - in - cheek fury over the last resting place of Sitting Bull, now lying, his bones safe under tons of concrete, at a tomb in Mobridge, S.D. The tomb has now been dedicated with much pomp, but North Dakota officials flatly declined invitations, thereby emulating Gen. Custer in making their own firm and perhaps last stand in the whole serio-comic squabble.

Readers recall how, in the prairie spring, a group of South Dakotans scurried up near Ft. Yates, in North Dakota, in dead of night and dug up Sitting Bull's bones, carting them to their own state for re-burial. There was much excited talk of lynching and such, but the subject was buried when the Indian was. A western brand of humor led South Dakotans to invite the Northerners to the dedicatory pageantry, resulting in outraged snorts.

Outsiders, fairly sophisticated about the devious wiles of press agentry catch a faint odor in the whole embroglio of a publicity stunt for the Black Hills resort region, although if alive Sitting Bull might not stand for so being used. Even the Southwest Navajos, less astute, like to be paid in generous wampum when tourists snap their pictures.

At any rate, the paleface Dakotans have provided a hunting ground for this much-deceased Indian, even if it's not the happy kind he used to ask from the Manitou.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Ike Replies to Harry, Adlai

Dear Adlai and Harry:

Have a heart, boys. After all it is only September and I have had little more than eight months to function in a situation which has been in the hands of the Democrats for twenty years.

Listening to your speeches at Chicago last week, I got the impression you were surprised to find me in the White House and had expected Houdini.

I was accused of greed, double dealing, unconcern for public welfare, being a stooge for the filthy rich, betraying the voters, selling the people short and giving an all-out impersonation of a man asleep at the switch.

I was somewhat surprised that I escaped being blamed for the extreme summer heat, the four Atlantic hurricanes of the 1953 season, the pitching problems of the world-series managers and the anonymous letters to Rita Hayworth.

I have made mistakes. I have not been among those going through this season without my name in the error columns of the box scores. I have not been able to pass any miracles, perform any wonders or obtain all objectives in 35 weeks.

I confess to being perplexed by some of the greatest problems of our times and I admit being the type that wants to be sure he is right before going ahead.

Mine also is the guilt of retaining a firm belief in such old adages as "look before you leap" and "never try to go up Niagara Falls in a barrel!"

It is perhaps natural that I should bring down criticism on my head for not taking La Starza's place in the coming fight with Marciano, not mending Carl Furillo's hand more rapidly, failing to name the starting lineups in the coming world series, withholding opinion whether the Bums or the Yanks would win and also causing Native Dancer to lose the Kentucky Derby.

I thought during my long service in the army and on the battlefield of a global war that I knew how it felt to be clobbered, slugged and shown unnecessary roughness, but if the speeches at the Democratic rally in Chicago are a forerunner of things to come, I ain't seen nuthin' yet. (What do you wish me to do, come in and surrender or go ahead with the fight as I see it?)

I noticed particularly heavy emphasis on my failure to reduce taxes overnight. When did the Democrats, over the last twenty years up to my election, ever show any extreme impatience in the matter of slashing taxation?

I got socked for my domestic policies, my foreign policies, and golf policies. (It was nice of you to lay off my fishing policies, and I take it, they are approved for the time being.)

-:-

Nobody blamed me for the sad case of Michael Patrick O'Brien, the former Shanghai bartendeer, who has for the past year been obliged to live on ferry boats and steamships because no country will let him land. This was, of course, an oversight.

Well, I am sorry to have been such a big disappointment, but at $100 a plate everybody is entitled to all the disappointment he can feel.

I shall try to do better, but wish you would remember that I am an American public servant elected by the people of the United States to the Presidency and trying to do his best. I am not the speed ace in a roller-skating derby or the whiz kid in an ice hockey contest. Have fun. I can take it.

Naguib Pushes Purge in Egypt

Dictator Arrests 14 New Farouk Followers

CAIRO (AP)—President Mohammed Naguib's government arrested former Premier Mustafa Nahas, his wife and 12 other onetime Egyptian bigwigs today. All 14 face trial before a special court created to deal with "traitors" to the revolutionary regime and corruption during the time of ex-King Farouk.

No specific charges were announced against any of the 14. It also was not known when they would appear before the court.

The roundup came as the three-man special tribunal prepared to begin trials of alleged plotters. The court hearings were scheduled to open later today and to remain in session throughout the three-year "transition period" — proclaimed last January—in which Egypt is operating under a provisional constitution. Political parties have been banned during that period.

Those arrested today included leaders of two once powerful political parties, several close advisers of Farouk and other persons previously accused of corruption under the monarchy.

Nahas, premier of the Wafdist government that governed Egypt from 1949 to 1952, his wife, and Hafez Affifi, former chief of Farouk's Royal Cabinet, were put under house arrest.

They will keep the trays inscribed: "I ate with Ike at the forward-to-'54 dinner, Sept. 21, 1953."

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Trade Mark.

MRS. ARTHUR B. WEBB

Suzellen C. Roest Becomes Bride of Rev. Arthur Webb

The pastor of Epworth Church, Rev Walter C Eyster, and Rev Edgar Webb, a student minister and brother of the bridegroom, officiated for the double ring ceremony

For the wedding the church altar was decorated with two baskets of asters, mums, and gladioli in shades of lavender, gold, and white Two seven branch candelabra were ornamented with large white satin bows, and the family pews were marked with similar bows

Wedding music was by Mrs George Lane, organist, and by Mr Lane, vocalist

Calvin Staeger of Chicago Ill, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage

Fashioned with fitted bodice of lace pointed at the waist, and full skirt of tulle ornamented with a wide lace inset, the floor-length bridal gown featured a Mandarin collar, and the long sleeves ended in points at the hands The bride's headpiece was a bonnet-effect sweetheart crown of pearls and orange blossoms centered with rhinestones holding in place her fingertip-length veil. Her cascade bouquet of white baby mums with lavendar color orchid in the center, was tied with white ribbons She wore a double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom,

Mrs. Louis Krady of Holland, Mich, a college roommate of the bride, was her matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs Samuel McDougal of Marion and Miss Dixie Lee Fisher of Statesville, N C, seminary roommate of the bride All wore floor-length gowns of lavendar fashioned with lace bodices and bouffant net skirts, with lace jackets, and carried cascade bouquets of bronze colored baby mums and lavendar asters Their floral cluster headpieces were of the same flowers Each wore a single strand of pearls

Brothers of the bridegroom, Charles R Webb of Kansas, Ill, and John R Webb of Greencastle, Ind, took part as best man and usher, respectively, and other ushers were a brother of the bride, Calvin Roest of Marion, and Rev John F Graham of Danville O, and Russell Corey of Peoria, Ill.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the Epworth Church Fellowship Hall Baskets of gold, white, and lavendar mums, asters, and gladioli formed a background for the bride's table which was centered with a four-tier cake decorated in lavendar and gold, and topped with miniature bride and bridegroom figures, wedding bells and swans Lighted lavendar candles were placed on either side Serving the cake and punch were Misses Patricia Ackerman and Miss Ruth Hindman of Marion, and the reception was in charge of the Lucy Webb Hayes Circle of the church

Traveling costume of the bride for a wedding trip to Michigan was a dress of brown crepe trimmed with brown velvet and rhinestones and her accessories were of brown velvet She wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet

Financing Problem In Three-Way Fire Protection Project

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The attorney general today outlined a plan under which a village and three townships in two counties may set up a firemen's indemnity fund for a fire department they maintain jointly.

Ashley and Oxford Twp. are in Delaware County, while Peru and Westfield Twps. are in Morow County.

C. William O'Neill, the attorney general, said the fire department is located in Ashley. Present law prevents Peru and Westfield twps. from setting up an indemnity fund because the fire-fighting equipment is located outside their jurisdiction.

O'Neill suggested Oxford Twp. set up an indemnity fund by levying a three-mill tax throughout the township and village of Ashley. He also said Peru and Westfield twps could contribute their share to the fund through mutual contracts with Oxford Twp.

Should both Ashley and Oxford Twp. qualify to establish the fund, O'Neill pointed out, Ashley residents would be taxed both by the village and township.

picture, which he said "looked like a North Korean."

Col. Don P. Hall of Kingsville, Tex., commander of the 4th Fighter-Interceptor Wing, said the pilot was "smiling and very happy it was over with."

Hall said the MIG pilot got out of his plane and immediately saluted Capt. Cipriano F. Guerra, Mission, Tex.

"The captain was quite surprised," Hall said. "He got out of his Sabre jet and walked over to the MIG15. A crewman threw sandbags under the wheels.

"The MIG pilot shook hands with all the men.

"The captain pointed toward the gun on the MIG and the MIG pilot turned off the switch. Air police immediately surrounded the plane and the MIG pilot accepted cigarettes that were offered to him by those milling around."

Asked why the pilot brought the MIG, Hall quoted him:

"I'm happy to leave communism."

"It is believed he knew of the reward," Hall said.

The pilot's first words were reported to be "O.K." His only other word in English was "no."

Hall said his clothing was "nondescript. . . . a blue-colored flying suit, a leather jacket and light colored shirt and flying boots."

The pilot was armed, but he turned over his loaded pistol to Guerra.

Hall said the Red pilot is about 25 years old and an officer.

Asked what the Air Force planned to do with the MIG Hall explained:

"I do not know if we will fly the MIG but we will get the most out of it. We definitely will go over it from all angles in a thorough examination."

Hall said the plane may be taken to the United States for testing but indicated this had not been decid-

Youths in Robbery Forget Where They Left Car, Caught

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Two Canton youths who forgot where they parked their car were arrested last night on armed robbery charges.

Mark Alan Ritzman, 17, and Thomas A. Evans, 18, admitted holding up the Morgan filling station at nearby Brilliant, according to Marshal Thomas Cook, who arrested the youths an hour after the stickup.

Their car was located later parked outside the town, after they told the marshal they could not find it.

Rchid Ferguson, 17, an attendant at the station, was forced into a wash room during the $50 holdup.

The money and a .22 caliber pistol were surrendered to Cook when he made the arrests.

Housing

suggest in sincere candor that the bankers weigh carefully the problem they share with housers. Together you have the opportunity to demonstrate that private industry can and will handle the direct government action in the housing field.

In harmony with the "sound money" policy of the Eisenhower administration, Cole said, the housing agency increased interest rates on FHA-insured and Veterans Administration-guaranteed mortgage loans and took other steps to free the mortgage market from federal intervention.

"A readjustment period was expected, and most certainly has occurred," he declared.

"Frankly, it was more of a readjustment than was contemplated either in or out of government, and there are many housers and many bankers who express concern about the present situation."

Builders' organizations in widely spread areas have complained of a shortage of housing credit. The National Association of Home Builders has forecast curtailed activity and layoffs in the construction industry unless lenders make more funds available.

Cole said he realized that "abnormally high" demands for credit from many areas of the economy are competing with housing; he voiced hope that this pressure would ease in the near future.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) called on the bankers to support and defend the administration's economic policies which, he said, protect the average citizen and aim at "the greatest good for the greatest number."

Despite some protests over boosts in interest rates, Bennett said in prepared remarks, the rates are now "more nearly normal than were the artificially low rates of the past 20 years."

Correction

In an article published in Friday's Star describing the arrest of J. C. A. Arter of 133 N. Main St. on a charge of resisting an officer in the exercise of official duty, The Star incorrectly attributed details leading up to the arrest to the warrant.

The warrant charges Arter with resisting officer Homer Watson on Sept. 16. The following details were reported by police and were not included in the warrant: Police said Arter failed to wait for the officer to finish making out a ticket for double parking for Arter's car. Police also reported that Arter started his car while the officer was in front of the vehicle, forcing the policeman to jump aside to avoid being struck.

The Star is happy to make this correction. No date has been set for the hearing in the case.

Marion Lions Club Bazaar Scheduled This Week

Three-Day Event Gives Funds for Work in Sight Saving

A major project of the Marion Lions Club is the sponsoring of a sight conservation program at the George Washington School where children with impaired eyesight are taught. In addition individual cases brought to the attention of the members are cared for during the year.

Funds to finance this worthwhile program are provided through the club's annual bazaar to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the art hall at the Marion Fairgrounds.

A year-round project, the work covers care of children and adults ranging in age from seven months to 78 years, involving treatment of eye infection to major eye surgery.

At George Washington School, where the club has sponsored sight conservation work since its organization, the program includes the purchase of special books requiring large print and other sight-saving devices.

The club's records show that not only is care provided when individual cases are brought to its attention but a follow-up record is kept with dates for return visits for observation and treatment. When necessary the patient is taken to the office of the attending physician or hospital by a member of the club.

Children and adults requiring treatment are referred to the club by the city and county schools, health and welfare departments, individual citizens, medical men, ministers and other groups and persons who know of specific cases where help can be given. All referrals are investigated by the club.

The committee includes Robert S. Kraner, Robert Syster, Emmett Hodges Jr., Paul Snider and Larry Weiser. There is a definite need for an expanded program of sight conservation in the city, the committee points out. The local club cooperates with the state and national Lions Club in a movement to develope a fund for research in the treatment of eye diseases which can be carried on in colleges. To date three colleges have been approved for participation in the program.

Present for the presentation were: left to right, Miss Philomen Gregg, principal, Jackson Taft, president of the Marion Lions Club, Jack Boyd, sight-saving chairman. Part of the proceeds of the annual bazaar sponsored by the club Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the art hall at the Marion County Fairgrounds, will be used to carry on the school program.

ized the Democrats' attack as "just sound and fury."

The President passed up an opportunity to reply Saturday when he spoke briefly at a GOP women's rally in Chicago, en route from Denver to Washington after six weeks of vacation combined with work in Colorado.

Stayed Non-Partisan

At that rally, Eisenhower kept is remarks mainly non-partisan. There was only one indirect dig at the opposition. Praising Republican Sen. Dirksen of Illinois for "leadership in Congress," the President said.

"It is a true leadership, not the kind that consists of the clever word and sometimes the bad deportment."

The President got a rousing welcome at the Chicago rally.

The President is scheduled to return to Washington from Massachusetts by plane late tonight (11:45 p.m. EST).

Aides have indicated that later this week Eisenhower may announce is choice for the Supreme Court vacancy caused by the death of Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson.

Another important government job to be filled is the secretary of labor post from which Martin P. Durkin resigned Sept. 10, charging the White House had run out on an agreement to recommend 19 changes in the Taft-Hartley Law.

Eisenhower has seven more speaking dates the next 30 days at meetings in five states and the District of Columbia.

of the U.S.S.R." This was a reference to an appeal by Dulles for the Communists to stop their alleged efforts to spread communism by revolution.

Accuses U. S.

Vishinsky accused the United States of "stimulating the war phycosis." U. S. leaders, he said, have "done their best to stimulate fear" by rumors of aggressive intentions of the Soviet Union.

"There is no reason for fear," he added, "because the Soviet Union unswervingly follows a policy of peace."

Referring to the recent announcement that Russia now has developed the hydrogen bomb, Vishinsky quoted from the Soviet announcement which he said gave assurances of Russia's peaceful intent.

He vigorously attacked the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as an aggressive bloc designed to "weaken and subvert the United Nations."

The former Soviet foreign minister, now head of the Soviet delegation to the U.N., was first (about 9:45 a.m. EST) on today's list of speakers in the Assembly's general policy debates.

Asks for Spot

Vishinsky asked for the spot Saturday at the same time he demanded that the U.N. reopen discussions on makeup of the Korean peace conference. He based his demand on Communist China's earlier cable insisting that the conference include Russia, India, Indonesia, Burma and Pakistan as "neutrals."

The Assembly last month voted down a Russian proposal for such a "round-table" conference, approving instead plans for a two-sided parley of the 16 U.N. Belligerents and South Korea on one side and whatever nations Red China and North Korea chose to sit with them on the other.

Some delegates thought that Vishinsky's demand would obstruct and delay the conference, which the U.N. Allies have suggested start Oct. 15 in either Geneva, Honolulu or San Francisco.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

The London "Sunday Chronicle" asked the question in big, bold type: "Just Who Did G-Man Hoover Fight in the WAR?" And the London "Sunday Times," in smaller type, says: "F.B.I. Under Fire"; and the London "Daily Mirror," in enormous type announces. "The G-Man Myth."

SOKOLSKY

And so I turn to a book, published last month in London, entitled, "The Scarlet Thread — 'Adventures in Wartime Espionage'" — by Donald Downes. Who is Donald Downes?

-:-

THE ALLITERATIVE name made me wonder whether it might not be a pseudonym, but no! There is actually such a person. He was born in Catonsville, Md., on Sept 30, 1903. He graduated from Yale in 1926, having majored in history and anthropology. It is reported that he also studied at Oxford, Columbia and Munich.

Then he settled in New York where he did publicity and sold life insurance. Then he taught school. At the beginning of World War II, he was Secretary of Radio of the Free World Association in New York.

It has often been said that a rolling stone gathers no moss, but that is not true of Donald Downes, who landed in the OSS, an espionage organization headed by General "Wild Bill" Donovan, now our ambassador to Thailand. Since the war, Downes has settled in Italy.

Belia Dodd, who once was an important Communist leader and has since turned and witnessed against her former colleagues in expiation of past treachery, organized in 1946 "The American Society for Cultural Relations with Italy" (Ascri).

The name of Donald Downes appears on the stationery of Ascri as correspondent for "The Nation."

THUS FAR, it has not come to my attention that any American edition of this book is being announced. Perhaps the extra-ordinary flop of Lord Jowitt's book has made American publishers cautious.

The book is difficult to read, but the first fact that caught my eye was this:

"Donald C. Downes, the holder of this pass, whose photo and signature are hereupon, has the right to circulate at all times in all territories occupied by the Army as he is on special mission for G2, HQ 5th Army. Do not question either the holder of this pass or persons for whom he vouches.
Sept. 1, 1943
Howard, Colonel, USA
G2, 5th Army."

It appears from the book that Downes organized a one-man OSS prior to the war and moved about the world mobilizing all sorts of queer forces against Hitler. Then he joined the British intelligence in the United States.

-:-

ON PAGE 60, Downes recounts a conversation with a British intelligence agent whom he calls "Mr. Howard" (not the colonel):

"'Do you feel strongly enough on these matters to work for us in your own country? To spy on your own fellow Americans and report to us?

"For we feel there is German money and German directing behind the "America First" movement, though many of its followers may not know it and would in fact be shocked to know it.

"If we can pin a Nazi contact or Nazi money on the isolationists, they will lose many of their followers. It might be the deciding factor in America's entry in the war, if the American public knew the truth.

"'BUT BE CAREFUL of the FBI, and the Neutrality Act can land you in prison, for in this work you could not register as the agent of a foreign power as the law requires. It would give the whole show away.'

"'If the President,' I (Downes) replied, 'can risk impeachment by breaking the Neutrality Law wholesale to aid Britain, who am I to refuse?'

"'And if you are caught,' he added, 'we have never heard of you!—you understand that?'

"'Perfectly, but I make a few conditions. One is that I am free to give any of the information I may turn up to any American government agency to which I think it would be interesting. Another is that on a personal, unofficial basis, I am free to inform a friend in naval intelligence what I am doing. The third is that I take no pay above expenses, which will include my living expenses.'

"'Agreed.'"

So, Donald Downes went to work for British intelligence indirectly though a "Mr. Howard," whom he met casually in a chop house near the skating rink in Rockefeller Plaza.

In this book, Downes devotes himself to an attack on the FBI to which I wish to devote another article.

In the citation, the Shah wrote the medal was awarded to Hook "for all Americans who are going to the corners of the earth risking their lives for the people of other countries." Hook, an ammunition expert attached to the U.S. military mission with the Iranian Army, lost all fingers on his right hand as a captured Communist grenade exploded while examining it.

$3,278 Is Returned By Honest Farmer

BALTIMORE (AP) — George Gerczak, who put all his cash in one basket and then sold the basket has his $3,278 back thanks to the honesty of a farmer.

The 63-year-old Gerczak had reported last Friday the money was in a bag on a pile of bushel baskets in his produce store and apparently was left in one of 33 baskets he sold to a stranger.

Fred Schlaile, Randallstown, Md. farmer, showed up at a police station with the bag of money shortly after reading of Gerczak's plight. He said the cash was among the baskets when he unloaded them and he figured the man who lost the money would tell the newspapers.

So he watched the papers—and Gerczak got his money back.

The oldest existing settlement of the 13 original states is Albany, N. Y. A fur-trading post was set up there by the Dutch in 1614. It was chartered as a city in 1686.

ACROSS THE COUNTER

Perhaps the prize example of all times of "It can't happen here" is the recent staggering fire that destroyed the Detroit transmission division of General Motors. It is the largest property insurance loss on a single risk in history, probably double Monsanto's Texas City disaster loss.

Earl J. Andrews

The plant was built only 4 years ago. The walls were brick - aproned and steel and glass. The floor was concrete. The roof, steel deck with built-up surfacing.

An acetylene torch, used in repairing the plumbing, apparently touched off the blaze by igniting a cleaning solution. It spread rapidly since there were no fire walls and a continuous 1200-foot production line.

According to an insurance journal, "Engineers, both in insurance ranks and throughout industry are aghast at this loss. They are expressing DISBELIEF over and over again that it could have happened."

Even the insurance companies were fooled. Their underwriters rate it "inconceivable" that this risk would be subject to 100% loss. The building was regarded as nearly incombustible.

General Motors, fortunately, had enough FIRE INSURANCE. But, it is reported, there was no "Business Interruption" Insurance, so the cost of temporary arrangements and the lack of profits from this division for several months will have to be borne by General Motors.

This is the No. 1 example of "what can't happen here" and which DOES HAPPEN here in unpredictable places. The consequences can be almost ruinous.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

The blood gushed out of the victim's face. And the big ham-sized fists, especially the one with the heavy ring on it, plowed into him again and again. But he just sat in the chair in the Teamsters Union hall.

RIESEL

He made no gesture of self defense, even when he was knocked off his seat onto the floor and choked until he thought he was going to die.

He was afraid of the consequences. The man with the ham-fists also had gun-slinging bodyguards sitting in the closed room. This was better than a movie. They enjoyed it.

THINK YOU this is Mickey Spillane or a movie script? No. This is from a witness' testimony before a congressional committee probing heavy money labor rackets in Kansas City.

The victim was one Eddie Chevlin, a former Teamster's Union official who dared disagree with the Kansas City Teamsters' boss, Orville Ring, he of the air- conditioned Cadillac. It was Ring who beat him, he said.

Eddie Chevlin figured it better to chance a bloody beating than be killed outright, because, as the congressional committee has said:

"Broken teeth, a maimed arm, or a crippled shoulder were typical of the victims' lot."

THE RECORD of this investigation "presents one of the most forbidding chapters in the history of American unions," the committee warned.

"In this connection, we must cite the entire hearing record for a full and adequate account of all the violence, the threats, intimidation, the fear, the unconscionably vicious assaults, the need for bodyguard, the brazen evidence of kidnapping, the promiscuous granting of deputy sheriff commissions, the widespread practice of carrying deadly weapons with or without permits, the roving gangs patrolling construction job sites and the strong-armed convoys in high-powered cars, including Mr. Ring's air-conditioned Cadillac.

"A great many of these acts of violence occurred on government construction projects" (involved in the war effort during Korean fighting—VR), the sub-committee of the House Committee on Education and labor said.

DURING THE HEARING, Chevlin was asked why the muscle boys had such power in a big city. Chevlin snapped back with the fact that, "Most of the decent, honest labor people are scared to death" to fight back. He was asked why. His answer is not only the shame of Kansas City, but of a score of other towns I could list. It revealed the ugly combine of politics and labor crime.

Chevlin explained:

"Deputy sheriffs with guns, golden glovers, muscle men walking in at every meeting, busting up union meetings. Why, we can hardly—couldn't hardly get 10 people to come to a meeting out of 1,200 members.

"They were afraid to come near the building. I stated in the paper that the damage being done by these people is causing more irreparable harm to the labor movement than any employer could do by design.

"I think the city police department has done as good a job as could be expected. These people who were beaten up and slugged were scared to death to sign a complaint against anybody, and when they did sign a complaint, the politics were such that generally a guy was taken into the magistrates court and the case thrown out."

AND CHEVLIN is just the counterpart of thousands of men who walk dazedly through frightening days inside labor. In the past year I have counted 54 indictments and six murders of labor leaders in six states. Just a few days ago nine union officials were indicted on extortion charges in Detroit. They are charged with having extorted hundreds of thousands of dollars. Most were teamsters.

I asked the new Teamsters Brotherhood International president, Dave Beck, what he was going to do. He told me something which sets an amazing precedent.

"I became president of the Teamsters in December and I cannot possibly be held responsible for what happened before then, but from that time forward I assume full responsibility," Beck asserted.

He then revealed that he has 12 ace criminal investigators in the field. They have been probing the produce racket in Los Angeles, Truck loading and unloading in San Francisco, produce market mulcting in New York, violence and interference with government armament works in Kansas City, construction extortion in Detroit and the tough boys in St. Louis, where the AFL convention meets in a few days.

Now it's up to the other 105 international AFL presidents to follow Beck's lead. This isn't labor's private affair. This pollutes the air everybody breathes.

Equal Rights

By Inez Robb

I have always been an outspoken advocate of equal rights for men, but within reasonable limits. I certainly never thought the lads would get pushy merely because there is an off-chance that eventually they may get their just desserts.

INEZ ROBB

However, the cause of equal rights was set back a generation when a man turned up at the opening of the Sadler's Wells ballet at the Metropolitan Opera House in a dinner jacket and a diamond tiara. That's what I said — a tiara.

-:-

THERE HE WAS, big as life and twice as conspicuous in a sparkling tiara, and there are new photos to prove it to any skeptics.

This is certainly not calculated to advance the cause of equal rights in a nation now engaged in trying to decide who should wear the pants in the family, much less the tiara.

Furthermore, if this gentleman was determined to wear a tiara to the opening, he should have donned white tie and tails. Tiaras are strictly from formal and not for black tie. How gauche can you get, for heaven's sake?

I don't know what it is about the Metropolitan Opera House, but it certainly brings out the worst in its customers. A person no sooner buys a ticket for a seat in this dingy, dignified old building than he wants to get into the act.

FIRST, THERE was the man who stood on his head and did nip-ups in the lobby on opening night 15 years ago. Apres him, le deluge of extroverts. There was the raddled beldame who hoisted her legs onto a table in the lounge and invited comparison with Dietrich's.

She was followed by a dame who electrified an opening-night audience by smoking stogies. The premiere, a year ago, was enlivened by a self-annointed glamour girl who wore a pair of form-fitting lounging pajamas.

Now we have the man in the tiara. Come to think of it, I would just as soon see a man in a tiara as a woman smoking a big, black cigar.

There is only one thing to be said for these exhibitionists: Persons who used to be dragged kicking and screaming to the Met to see dancing or hear music they hated can now be certain of enough sideshows in the audience to keep them not only awake but amused.

Patrons are now so accustomed to show-offs at the Met that if the phantom of the opera suddenly got loose and started parading in the aisles, they would simply yawn and say, "Louder and funnier if you want to compete here, Bub!"

THE ANNUAL autumn opening of the Met's own opera season is not far off and the mind reels when it contemplates to what lengths the devotees of music will be driven to out-do the balletomanes, who scored a home run with the tiara. News photographers should be alerted to watch for men in diamond dog collars and stomachers to match.

This, I suppose, is what comes of urging men to dress more colorfully, a campagin women have been carrying on for years. Those prophets who felt strongly that no good would come from the Hawaiian shirt may live to see their fears justified.

Indeed, the time may be at hand when the girls will really discover they haven't a thing to wear because daddy already has it on.

When that day comes, I hope women will be fair enough to realize they started the whole mess when they snitched his slacks in the first place.

The best solution is to give his clothes back to daddy and hope he will return the favor.

Oklahoma City Youth Speeds To Save License

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—W. A Williams, police accident investigator, said he chased a teen-ager through the city at 75 miles an hour yesterday, logging nine traffic violations.

Two cars collided at an intersection trying to avoid the speeding vehicles and a third driver jumped a curb to get out of the way.

Williams finally stopped the youth at gunpoint and asked him why he tried to flee.

"I was told that if I got one more ticket I would lose my license," the youth replied.

Cadillac

A 30-Year Dream Coming True!

He used to stand on the curb in front of his father's house—and watch the Cadillacs sweep majestically by—carrying fine ladies and gentlemen on happy excursions.

That's when the dream started in his heart—and refused to leave.

Six times, before today, he has signed his name to an application for a motor car title—and, on every occasion, he knew it was a compromise.

But not this time! He is taking the keys to a beautiful 1953 Cadillac—and his 30-year-old dream is coming true.

And what a fulfillment it will be, as he rolls out into the highway and takes the longest way home!

First of all, he'll get those quick glances of approval which tell him the dream he dreamed for so many years is still in the hearts of others.

And then the car's great performance will begin to unfold itself.

Silence—almost complete silence—just the soft sound of the wind slipping by . . . the quickest, easiest response to the accelerator he has ever imagined . . . steadiness and roadability and handling ease that remove all but the merest effort from managing the car.

And, oh, what marvelous comfort! It's like sitting in the easiest chair conceivable—and moving smoothly and effortlessly through space.

And then, almost before he knows it, he'll be home—and in the driveway—with the family rushing out with the final voice of confirmation.

Man—this was worth waiting and working for!

And, of course, the years and the miles will add their proof as to the wisdom of his choice: dependability—long life—economy of upkeep and operation—and unusual resale value.

Yes, there is every practical reason for owning a Cadillac—as well as every personal one.

Better come in and see us today. It's probably easier than you think to make your dream of Cadillac ownership come true.

Economy Move Costs Texas Sheriff His Car

JASPER, Tex. (AP)—Jasper County Sheriff Thomas M. Mixon hopes to have an automobile again Saturday.

The county commissioners sold the sheriff's car about a month ago in an economy move. They said they would allow eight cents a mile expense money but from now on the sheriff would have to provide his own car.

Mixon said he didn't have money to buy a car. But businessmen here started a fund-raising campaign to get the sheriff back on wheels.

GOP Leaders Feel Robert A. Taft Jr. Strong Candidate

CHICAGO (AP)—Some Republican leaders believe Robert A. Taft Jr of Cincinnati would be the party's strongest candidate in next year's special election to fill his late father's Senate seat.

They are urging the 37-year-old Cincinnati lawyer to run, because they fear the Democratic candidate will be Gov. Frank J. Lausche, it was reported at last week's GOP meeting here.

Republican strategists are trying to overcome the younger Taft's reluctance to run on his father's name, the reports said. These GOP leaders believe the Taft name would be more potent against Lausche, a proven vote - getter, than Rep. George Bender, presently the leading potential Republican candidate.

Red Cross Unit Issues Appeal

Bloodmobile To Visit In Marion This Week

An appeal for volunteer donors for the September visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit here on Thursday is being made by the local chapter.

There still is a vital need for blood for the wounded of the Korean War now being rehabilitated in hospitals even though the fighting has ceased, Robert S. Kraner, chairman of the local blood program, points out.

It has been estimated that the seriously wounded of this conflict required at least two or three pints of plasma and six pints of whole blood to complete their recovery. The quota for every mobile unit operation is 150 pints.

The Bloodmobile Unit will be at the First Presbyterian Church, Thursday from 11:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Volunteers may register at the Red Cross Chapter office, 2-1653.

On Wednesday the Unit will be at the Marion Engineer Depot.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

GALION — The engagement of Miss Jean Ellen Cooper of Richmond, Ind., to Joseph M. Wilcox Jr., is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Cooper. Miss Cooper was graduated from Richmond High School and is employed in the Richmond Bank. Mr. Wilcox is the son of Mrs. Hazel Bower and Joseph M. Wilcox Sr., of Galion. He was graduated from Iberia High School in 1950, and is now employed at the Marion Motor Products Company in Marion. He returned just recently from one year of overseas service.

Touchdown Hotdogs for After Football Game

Celebrate the team's victory with Touchdown Hotdogs. Ravenous fans of all ages appreciate these hearty, ketchup-laced "footballs," where tiny frankfurters are nestled within crispy, cornmeal biscuits.

After a brisk trek from the stadium, the teasing aroma of freshly-baked "footballs" is completely tantalizing. The combination of spicy flavors is so delicious that they disappear like frost in the sun! Make plenty!

Put 4 frankfurters in pan and cover with boiling water. Remove pan from heat, cover, and let stand 7-8 minutes. Remove from water with tablespoon to prevent pricking skins. Dry on paper towels and cut in thirds crosswise. Meanwhile make the following cornmeal biscuit dough. 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 cup corn meal, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup shortening, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, 1 teaspoon chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento, 2-3 cu milk.

Sift flour, corn meal, baking powder, and salt into mixing bowl. Cut in shortening as fine as meal. Stir in green pepper, onion, and pimiento. Add milk, mixing to a soft dough. Knead lightly on floured board for 20 seconds. Roll dough into a rectagle 10 ½" x 16" and " thick. Cut with knife into 12 rectangles, 3½" x 4" Place a piece of frankfurter in each rectangle. Fold dough over frankfurter, forming into football shapes and pinching edges together. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15-20 minutes. Put ketchup in small cone and press onto footballs making "lacing." Makes 12.

Reds Use 'Loopholes'

Senate Probers Urge Tighter Security Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate probers have called for tighter security laws to plug loopholes they say permit Communists to flood America with propaganda in peacetime and set up underground presses for use in war.

One step they urged is designed to force Reds to disclose printing equipment they allegedly have stored away for use in case the Communist party is outlawed or a war with Russia breaks out.

Another would require diplomatic and consular officers putting out political propaganda in this country to register under the foreign agents registration act — thus labeling any propaganda they dispense.

The proposals were advanced by the Senate internal security subcommittee yesterday in making public 336 pages of secret testimony taken in a probe of Communist underground printing facilities and illegal propaganda.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) said the closed-door hearings clearly showed "that loopholes in our security laws allow the Communist conspirators to flood the United States in peacetime with tons of propaganda and to prepare secret printing plants for continuing their propaganda activities in case of war."

Ex-Communists and former government undercover agents in the Communist party testified at the hearings. They said the Reds have set up secret printing plants and have hidden away other printing and potographic equipment for proaganda work in case the party is outlawed

Sen. Welker (R-Idaho), who headed a three-member subcommittee task force to conduct the investigation, said in an accompanying statement:

"We learned that the Communists have spent thousands of dollars in buying printing equipment ranging all the way from linotypes and cylinder presses, offset presses and photographic equipment, to mimeograph machines and other types of duplicating devices which have been hidden away for future needs.'

Welker said that "huge quantities of paper and other supplies also were purchased and hid away. He added:

Potters Continue Talks on Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations continue today between the U.S Potters Assn. and the AFL International Brotherhood of Operating Potters on a two-year contract covering 28,000 members in 10 states and Canada.

The union's proposals, consisting mainly of a demand for a 10 per cent wage increase, were submitted to the manufacturers Saturday.

Frank Hull, of East Liverpool, Ohio, disclosed the wage demand and said negotiations were "going into the crucial stage."

A spokesman for the manufacturers said following a meeting yesterday that there had been no break so far in the negotiations Current wages were not announced

REV. EARL E. COOK

Special Church Series Set at Upper Sandusky

Rev. Earl E. Cook of Lansing, Mich., and Mrs. Cook will open a series of services at Upper Sandusky Wednesday night at the Bible Church on N. Sandusky Ave. The meetings will continue each night at 7.30 through Sept 27, the pastor, Rev. Lanne Beausay, stated

With the messages of the guest minister, a feature of the services will be special music presented by the "Musical Cooks" including Rev. Cook as song leader and Mrs. Cook as pianist for duets which the couple will sing.

Many years in evangelistic and pastoral work, Mr. Cook preached at churches in the area several years ago. Among his sermon subjects for the meetings at Upper Sandusky will be "The United States in Prophecy," "The Future of Russia from the Prophetic Word," "The Key to Success in Christian Living," "The Spirit Speaketh," "The One and Only Way Out of the World's Dilemma," and "The Final Setting of the World's Drama and the Divine Rending of the Iron Curtain."

Child, 5, Loses Trying To Rescue Neighbor's Puppy

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP) — When 5-year-old David Willis saw his neighbors' puppy wedged between an upstairs screen and window he knew there was just one thing to do.

Realizing his neighbors, who share a duplex house with the Willis family, were away from home, he raced upstairs with a paring knife and set about prying open the door connecting the two sections of the house. The knife slipped. Doctors at Chillicothe Hospital removed David's right eye Saturday.

$80,000 FIRE

PIKETON, Ohio (AP)—Fire yesterday destroyed the Patterson Milling Co., oldest business firm in this village near the site of the atomic energy plant. Plant firemen helped volunteers from Piketon and firemen from nearby Waverly and Beaver confined the blaze to the milling company. Damage was estimated at $80,000.

Last of Liberated GI's Coming Home

Final Freedom Ship Due Wednesday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Gen. R L Howze, ninth and last of the freedom ships returning liberated American POWs to their homeland, docks at Ft. Mason Wednesday, concluding the greatest emotional binge the San Francisco waterfront has seen in years.

It started when the transport Gen. Nelson M. Walker sailed through the Golden Gate with 328 repatriates Aug. 23. It continued with the hospital ship Haven, the Gen. W F. Hase, the Marine Adder, the Gen. John Pope, the Marine Phoenix, the Gen. William Black and—yesterday—the Gen A. W Brewster.

Delirious, unrestrained joy has been the keynote Soldiers once given up for dead have stood at the rail, yelling, laughing and crying at the sight of their loved ones on the dock Mothers have fainted and fathers have sobbed openly

But maybe it's like Capt. James C. Williams said when he left the Brewster yesterday:

"Happy? I'm near crazy with happiness. I was a POW 33 months I haven't seen my wife and kids in three years. I'll see them tomorrow. I'm so happy I..I..I just don't know what to say.

"But I hope all these families, and all these soldiers, don't get so happy they forget what caused the misery in the first place.

"You've heard of death valley I was there. I saw hundreds of men die for lack of food, for lack of any medical care whatever. See my nose? A Chinese smashed it with his rifle butt after they captured me.

"I saw them throw hand grenades at the wounded. I saw them open the doors of ambulances and fire inside with their machine guns

"We walked 34 miles the first day Some of the men had no boots We got no water and no food for four days.

"You've heard all these stories They've been told before. It doesn't mean much to anyone who wasn't there. I had it no worse and no better than many of the men. At least I pulled through.

"But I'd hate to think everybody was going to forget all that now, just because some of us came home on a ship. There are many American soldiers buried in Korea. They won't be coming home like this"

The captain, of Kansas City, is only 32.

There was Lt. James L. Stone, first man off the Brewster. He is 30, looks younger. He was first off because he has been awarded the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest tribute.

The first big cheer, the salutes of the generals, went to Lt. Stone, but his big moment came when he spotted his mother at the foot of the gangplank. A hero, sure, but a son first.

Altogether 301 former POWs filed off the gangplank· 239 from the Army, 48 from the Air Force, 14 Marines and 4 from the Navy. There were privates and noncoms, lieutenants, captains and majors.

Scholarships Awarded 3 Morrow County Girls

MT. GILEAD — Three additional cadet teaching scholarships have been awarded to Morrow County students by the Morrow County scholarship committee. The number brings to six those awarded in the county this year

Scholarships for $500 for each of two years schooling were awarded to the following the past week. Marty Jan Sadler and Keith Evans of Mt. Gilead, and Evelyn Bowman of Cardington.

The money was made available for the scholarships by action of the state legislature this past spring. Under the terms of the law the money for the scholarships does not have to be repaid provided the recipients teach two years in the state.

Earlier the committee had awarded scholarships to Rosalie Downs of Johnsville, Robert Goff of Chesterville, and Mary Lou Esty of Marengo.

The county was originally allotted three scholarships When other counties could not fill all of their scholarships, additional scholarships for local students became available, according to county Superintendent of Schools, T. A. Gantz.

Grandma's Life Rushed by Job As a Physician

CHICAGO (U'P)—Being a doctor for 50 years should have taken all Ottilie Zelezny's time.

But she also is a mother and a grandmother. "No maids raised our children," she said. "Our home was above our offices and we changed diapers ourselves."

Dr. Zelezny says she has found the formula for health and happiness in what some people call "the retirement years."

"Keep on working" is her solution. She has no intention of retiring.

"It's only sensible to do less as one grows older. But I can't see retiring altogether. Why, what would I do? Stay at home and keep a maid and look at her? Nonsense'"

Her husband, Dr. Otto Baumrucker, a dentist, agrees with his wife's philosophy. He too maintains his practice.

Every morning at 8 o'clock Dr. Zelezny, a gynecologist, punches her "In" light at Women and Children's Hospital where she has been on the staff for 33 years. Four afternoons a week she has office hours in suburban Cicero. She has maintained her personal practice there for 50 years. She still drives her own car, but gave up house calls eight years ago.

"Every time you meet her she's bustling about with the latest medical journals under her arm, anxious to learn something new," a hospital associate said.

She also write for several medical journals.

Dr. Zelezny's son is a neurologist; her daughter is a housewife and school teacher. She has four grandchildren.

The doctor decided to keep her maiden name because it was easier to spell and pronounce

She explained that she looks much younger than her years because she's been busy all her life at work she loves.

When asked her age, the doctor was completely feminine "I'd rather not say," she replied.

RECOVERING FROM POLIO

Mrs. Pirschel's son, Michael, is staying in Carey with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Dow, and is attending the seventh grde of Our Lady of Consolation School. His sister, Patricia, is staying with another uncle and aunt in Carey. Mr. and Mrs Gerald Kitzler, and is enrolled in the fifth grade of the same school.

Here is a remarkable new idea in nutrition!

Now you can get your

Vitamins and Minerals

The easy, pleasant way—in Borden's

Gail Borden Milk
and Gail Borden Skimmed Milk

Just one quart a day of either Gail Borden Whole or Skimmed Milk, brings you the minimum adult daily requirements of nine of the most important vitamins and minerals!*

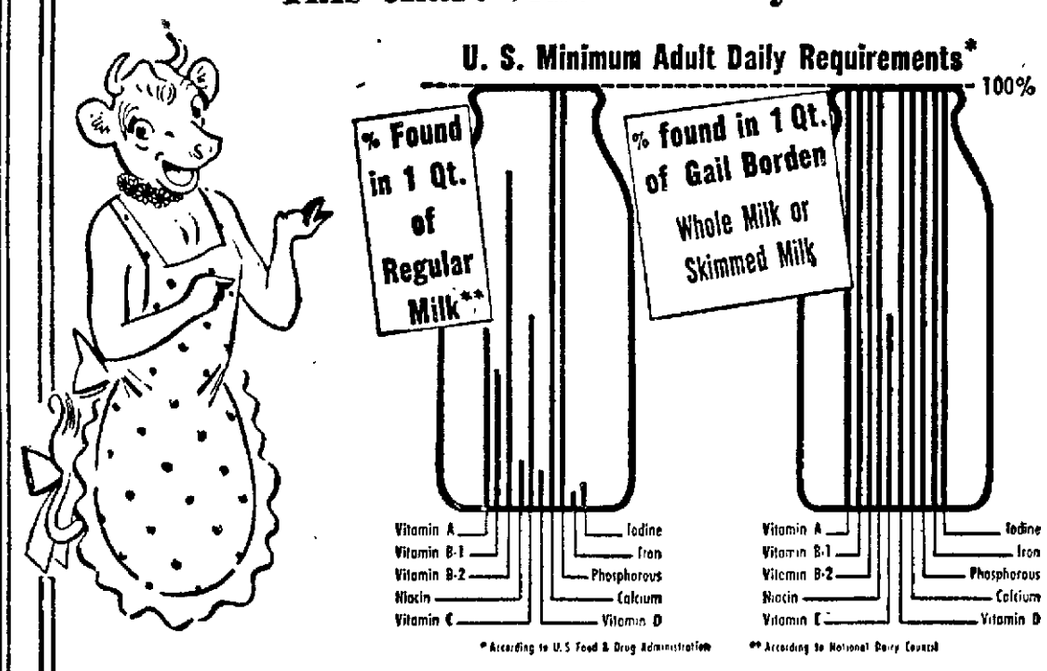
Medical and public health surveys show that many Americans suffer from vitamin and mineral deficiencies—even when spending more than average for food. Gail Borden vitamin and mineral fortified milk helps guard your family against such a lack.

A scientific triumph!

Nothing is added to Gail Borden milk except the nutrients naturally found in milk—but normally present in quantities usually too small for optimum human needs.

Science now makes it possible to add extra quantities of these essential vitamins and minerals to milk. The exact formula used in Gail Borden is the result of years of research—much of it by Borden's own world-renowned scientists.

This chart tells the story



This shows the percent of minimum adult daily needs of vitamins and minerals supplied by one quart of regular milk—and by one quart of Gail Borden Milk, either whole or skimmed.

.Gail Borden is not fortified with vitamin C because this vitamin is unstable. It is found abundantly in fruits and vegetables.

Ask your doctor!

When your doctor questions the adequacy of the vitamin and mineral content of your diet, ask him about Gail Borden Whole or Skimmed Milk.

Two kinds . . . one of them just right for you!

Both kinds delivered to your door or at your favorite store

Light kept out . . . flavor and vitamins kept in!

This improved milk is protected by amber glass bottles and opaque one-way containers. The actinic rays of sunlight, even when indirect, can greatly harm the vitamin content and flavor of milk.

These containers screen out most of such harmful rays, helping to keep the full vitamin content and fine fresh flavor of Gail Borden Milk.

The biggest 1c value in town!

Gail Borden Milk costs just one cent a quart more than our regular homogenized milk. The same vitamin and mineral protection in capsule form would cost much more than this! And of course, Gail Borden Skimmed Milk is even lower in price This is why we say Gail Borden is such a big value money-wise!

Gail Borden
Signature Quality Whole Milk

Gail Borden is pure, whole milk . . . produced under ideal conditions . . . and especially guarded all the way from Borden-inspected farms to you. It is homogenized for even flavor and richness, and for easy digestability.

The fortification with extra vitamins and minerals does not change the flavor of Gail Borden Milk in any way whatever. As far as flavor is concerned, Gail Borden is just pure, fresh homogenized milk. But when it comes to nutrition, it is far more! It can be your extra margin of nutritional safety.

Everyone realizes the importance of vitamins and minerals in the diet—but many of us do nothing about it. Instead of eating what we need, we prefer to eat what we like. That's what makes Gail Borden so perfect for your diet . . . because most everyone likes milk. And even though you do not drink an entire quart every day—whatever amount you do drink gives you that much extra protection!

Gail Borden
Signature Quality Skimmed Milk

Persons on a diet should be especially careful to get plenty of vitamins, minerals and proteins. When the amount of food is reduced, it becomes difficult to get enough of these essential "protective" nutrients. Yet your need for them remains just as high as ever!

Gail Borden Skimmed Milk solves this difficulty! One quart contains only 421 calories . . . but it will supply you with 100% of the minimum adult daily needs of nine out of ten essential vitamins and minerals . . . and in addition, 54% of the normal protein needs.

With Gail Borden Skimmed Milk, you can reduce—safely! First, of course, get the advice of your doctor. Then use Gail Borden to help plan a low-calorie diet with an extra margin of vitamins, minerals and proteins. Gail Borden Skimmed Milk contains extra amounts of non-fat milk solids—and these add to the flavor as well as the nutritive content. Gail Borden Skimmed Milk doesn't taste at all like ordinary "skim"!

Price of Steel Drops Sharply

Expected Market Readjustment Comes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Price reductions on premium steel hit the metal market more last week than any other week in recent history, Steel, the metalworking magazine, said today.

Fading premium prices followed the disappearance, during the summer, of demand for conversion steel, for which consumers once paid heavily, it added.

But "these first two phases of readjustment are in line with expectations," the weekly stated. It continued:

"Everybody knew that when the frenzy of steel demand melted away, buyers would not pay more than the regular market prices"

Steel predicted if iron and steel demand continues to ebb, producers would move to absorb freight charges, and already there has been a "small amount" of freight absorption. The weekly went on:

"Then if further readjustments are necessary, price extras might be waived and base prices cut"

But the waning premium prices and absent conversion steel demand, it said, have affected relatively few steel producers.

"Only a small proportion of the total steel output," the weekly said, "was in conversion tonnage and only a few small producers were charging premium prices."

The magazine reported the national production rate rose to 90 per cent of rated capacity in the week ending Sept. 19, a jump of 1.5 points over the preceding week.

Production rate was held down by the two-week-old strike at Bethlehem Steel's Lackawanna, N. Y., plant, where in the Buffalo district, production plunged 5.5 points during the week to 26 per cent of rated capacity. The strike ended Friday.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

The Last TV First

It's always a pleasure to welcome Jack Benny back. Naturally I was right there, waiting I didn't know Marilyn Monroe was going to be on Honest' I was just sitting there enjoying Mr Benny and suddenly this blonde shows up Quite a lot of blonde

J. CROSBY

It may easily have been the best kept secret of the year. Oh, there were a couple of press releases and maybe a quarter page ad here and there but, in general, they kept her under wraps Then just before she marched out in front of the cameras, they removed the wraps —most of them, anyhow

This was a television first of some dimension I remember way back when they first linked New York and Philadelphia Then Chicago swam into view Finally came Los Angeles, throwing open the Far West to Milton Berle Gads, historic moments on TV we've all shared—Kefauver, Virginia Hill, J Fred Muggs, Queen Elizabeth II, the bonfire at the Democratic National Convention, Arthur Godfrey in four colors, Harry Truman playing Mozart

AND NOW THAT WE'VE seen Marilyn, live and in the flesh—as much flesh as the law allows —I don't know what we've got to look forward to This may be the last of all television firsts. It's going to take an awful lot to surprise me from now on

It would have been interesting to have been in on the story conference when the Benny crowd found out they had Marilyn Monroe on their hands After all these years, I think I know how the mind of a gagwriter works and it's my guess that at least one of them leaped in with the suggestion. "We'll put the girl in a Mother Hubbard ' A gagwriter's mind runs strongly toward the old Switcheroo and veiling the Monroe shape would have been about the biggest switcheroo of all time.

IF SUCH A SUGGESTION was made, it was overuled, conceivably by Miss Monroe She came aboard in a white dress so tightfitting that it must have taken all four of Benny's gagwriters to hook her into it

From there on she was pure Marilyn Monroe, a girl who has made a very good thing out of sex and isn't going to be talked out of it by any gagwriters She batted her sleepy eyelids at Benny, pawed him in a way that made me very nervous spoke in that babyish almost European whisper which she must have invented because it has no real reason for existing, and sang at him

In short she behaved just exactly as you'd expect Marilyn Monroe to behave You may think it odd for me to be so surprised about this, but I am. The trend is all the other way The usual thing is to take Helen Traubel and make a clown of her. Or you take some big muscle man like Buddy Baer and make him mince around the stage with his hands on his hips Or make Margaret Truman do bumps and grinds. Never, never do you allow them to be themselves. In that regard, Miss Monroe's appearance was a triumph Or perhaps that's the only way she can act.

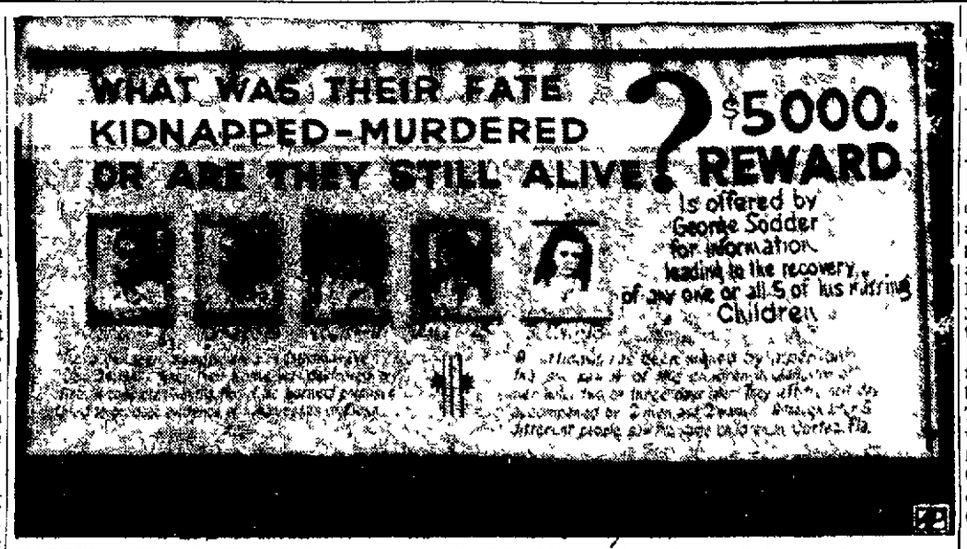
THE JACK BENNY show — I knew Mr Benny would get in here eventually if you'd just be patient — was not the funniest one I'd ever seen, possibly because our minds were elsewhere But it was the usual smooth, relaxed, professional job.

On radio, Benny relied heavily on his very expert stooges and sometimes almost vanished from the show entirely. On television, more and more he's doing most of the work himself with surprising ease

If memory serves, he was on this show for the entire half hour, sometimes entirely alone. It was quite a tour de force. He'll do a show every three weeks this year and there'll be 12 more

The population of Italy is about 47 million



PARENTS STILL HOPE FOR WORD OF CHILDREN. Mr and Mrs. George Sodder of Fayetteville, W Va , still refuse to believe their five children perished in a Christmas Eve fire which destroyed their home in 1945 To keep alive the case they have had a signboard erected on the outskirts of Fayetteville appealing to motorists to be on the lookout for clues. No bones or other identifiable remains of the children were found in ashes of Sodder home

St. Mary Offensive Blanks Cardington in 27-0 Win

Injuries Hit Both Teams, Merchant Out for Season

By JOHN SHORT
Marion Star Sports Editor

St Mary opened its 1953 grid season with flying colors Saturday in rolling to a 27-0 win over Cardington's Pirates. The Irish scored twice in the first six minutes of play.

The win proved to be a costly one for the St Mary team. Butch Merchant was lost for the season Merchant was shaken up in the second period and removed by Coach Robbins. An examination after the game showed he had torn the ligaments in a knee and will be unable to play again this year. The knee was to be placed in a cast today and physicians said Butch would be ready for basketball action this winter. He had been counted on to carry a major load of the Irish football attack this year

Cardington also lost the services of one of its players when Jim Snyder suffered a back injury. He was taken to City Hospital where he remained overnight Coach Ed Wolfe said the injury was a recurrence of an old one but Snyder will be laid up for some time.

Ryan Scores One, Two

Larry Ryan took a handoff from Quarterback Roger Micheli and scooted over tackle for 28 yards and the first score of the season after the Irish put the opening kickoff into play at the 37-yard stripe He had picked up 23 yards in two attempts before his touchdown run. Jerry Ballenger converted after the TD for a 7-0 lead.

Don Waddell returned Don Shoemaker's kickoff to the 20 and managed to squirm through the line for two yards before Pat O'Connor recovered a Cardington fumble at the Pirate 17 to put the Irish on the track again. Ryan plowed for three, Ted Kilbury went over tackle for five and John Messenger carried for six before Ryan plunged over from the three for his second counter. Earl Shaffer blocked Ballenger's attempt to convert. The second TD came with 5 40 remaining on the scoreboard clock

During the rest of the first quarter, St Mary's tight defense kept the Pirates bottled up inside their own 30 yard line Cardington managed to reach the 27-yard stripe but no further.

Kick Blocked

At the start of the second period the Pirates managed to drive out to the 31 after recovering a St Mary fumble at the 12 On fourth and four at the 31, Ryan blocked a Pirates' kick to set up a third TD from the 28 Micheli was stopped for no gain before Merchant plowed for five. A Micheli to O'Connor pass carried to the 18 from where Micheli scored on an end sweep. Ballenger again converted

Following the kickoff, the Pirates were held to seven yards and kicked to the Marion 45. For the first time, the Cardington line held St. Mary and the Irish were forced to kick Cardington, however, fumbled the ball and the Irish recovered at the Pirate 26 with less than a minute to play in the half Micheli and Messenger picked up three and five yards respectively and Micheli then hit O'Connor at the five and Pat went over standing up. The play covered 19 yards and was followed by Ballenger's third conversion. It gave St Mary a 27-0 lead at halftime.

Coach Ed Wolfe's Pirates came back in the third quarter to stop the Irish attack. Coach Ray Robbins was substituting liberally throughout the second half but the defense still managed to stop the Cardington runners.

Pirate Drive Fizzles

Closest the Pirates came to penetrating St. Mary territory was midway in the third quarter when they drove from the 26 to the 47 where with fourth down and one to go a bad pass from center lost six and the Irish took over at the 41.

The Irish freshmen and sophomores kept the ball in Cardington territory for the remainder of the game but were unable to push to paydirt. They managed to pick up a first down at the seven in the closing two minutes but a penalty set them back to the 12 Messenger and John Spangler carried to the three in three plays before the gun ended the game.

The game was played in a steady rain which started falling at the start of the second quarter. Most of the 750-odd fans sat through most of the third quarter before leaving

John Wells is serving as one of Coach Wolfe's top linebackers. Wells is the one-armed player who starred last year for Caledonia's six-man grid team in the Double-M League.

—:—

The win moved St. Mary into a tie for the lead in the newly-organized Mid-Ohio Conference Richwood whipped Elm Valley Friday night to share the lead with the Irish. St. Mary will meet Lima St. Rose next week before taking on Mt. Gilead in its second conference game in two weeks.

—:—

St. Mary fumbled seven times but retained possession six times. Six fumbles marred the Cardington attack. Five were recovered by St. Mary. Two kicks were blocked by the Irish. Ballenger and Ryan knocked down the attempts to lower the Pirate kicking average to 14 yards. Ryan was top ball toter for Robbins' crew. In 10 carries he picked up 73 yards. Messenger gained 55 yards in 13 carries.

Redlegs Take Opener; Bow to Braves' Rookie

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, idle today, are at home for the remainder of the National League season.

The Rhinelanders play three midweek games with the seventh-place Chicago Cubs and tangle with the Milwaukee Braves over the weekend.

Charley Grimm's boys closed out their home season yesterday by giving the Redlegs a 5-3 win in the opener and taking the seven-inning nightcap 3-0.

Bud Podbielan hurled the first game to gain his first win since July 2.

Four of the Redleg runs were unearned Gus Bell reached first base in the sixth on Eddie Mathews' bobble and scored when Jim Greengrass powered his 20th homer of the season.

In the seventh frame, Roy McMillan beat out an infield hit and stole second. Mathews booted a bouncing grounder by Bobby Adams. Roy scored on a wild pitch. Bell singled home Adams, and Greengrass socked a single for his 97th RBI.

Joey Jay, getting his first major league starting assignment, blanked the Redlegs in the second affair, allowing the Cincinnatians only three hits.

The game was called because of darness at the end of seven.

Marciano Expects To Clear Up Only Dispute on Record

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)—Rocky Marciano, at the peak of his career, expects to erase the only disputed fight in his record Thursday night at the Polo Grounds against determined Roland LaStarza.

"I'd like to clear that up," said the heavyweight champion after yesterday's sizzling workout. "It's the only fight there ever was any argument about. I always figured I'd fight him again.

"He's a strong guy, one of the strongest I ever fought—at least as strong as Joe Walcott. But he doesn't hit like Walcott.

"I think I've improved an awful lot since the first fight with LaStarza. After all, that was 3½ years ago."

Marciano won a split decision from LaStarza March 24, 1950.

Raise Recommended For Top AFL Leaders

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The AFL's top leaders should get a pay raise, the union's executive council says.

No specific amount was mentioned, but the council's report, prepared for the national convention which opens today, said the salaries "do not meet present-day standards and conditions"

George Meany, AFL president, now receives $25,000 a year. Secretary-Treasurer William Schnitzler gets $22,000.

Indians, Chisox Meet in Fight For 2nd Place

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today held second place by a two-game margin which could disappear in games with third-place Chicago tomorrow night and Wednesday.

While Chicago's White Sox swept two from tailend St. Louis yesterday, the Indians divided with the Detroit Tigers, losing the opener 8-6 and copping the nightcap 6-3.

Third baseman Al Rosen had two singles in nine times up, leaving him only the thinnest chance to overtake league-leader Mickey Vernon of Washington who hit 3-for-9 yesterday. Vernon, who has 3 more games to play, has a .336 average to Rosen's .329. Rosen also lost his league leadership in homers when Gus Zernial of Philadelphia clouted 2 to pass Rosen's total of 40 by 1.

Early Wynn, trying for his 18th victory, was unable to hold a four-run lead in the opener. The Tigers clustered four homers against him —Steve Souchock getting one in the sixth and one in the seventh, and Jim Delsing and Gerry Priddy belting homers in the sixth.

Bob Lemon, victim of a two-run rally by Detroit in the eighth was charged with the loss.

Larry Doby hit his 27th homer of the year off starter Billy Hoeft in the fourth of the opener and now lacks just three of having 100 runs batted in He also struck out in the second game to move within two of the league whiff record of 120.

In the nightcap, where Mike Garcia posted his 18th victory against 9 losses with a 7-hitter, the Tribe had 2 double plays to make a season total of 193—one over a club record set in 1944 and tied in 1949.

Coaches Mostly Approve New Football Rule

NEW YORK (AP)—Football coaches' attitudes toward the new substitution rule ranged from enthusiasm to disapproval today following its first major weekend test, which produced a series of form reversals. But the victims of the biggest upsets insisted limited substitutions had nothing to do with the results of their games.

Red Drew, whose Alabama eleven sustained an eye-opening 25-19 setback by Mississippi Southern Friday night, claimed he was simply outplayed.

"I don't think the rule had any principal effect," Drew maintained. "We were beaten by a very fine football team. It was as fair to one side as the other."

Stanford's Chuck Taylor felt the same way after College of the Pacific surprised the Indians 25-20.

"Substitutions by either team had nothing to do with the outcome We simply got beat by a better team," he said.

And Coach Bill Glassford of Nebraska insisted it was mistakes and not the substitution rule which hurt the Cornhuskers against Oregon. The Ducks capitalized on some Nebraska miscues to defeat the Midwesterners 20-12 in the NCAA television game.

Abe Martin of Texas Christian indicated he liked the substitution rule the first day he heard about it "and I still like it."

"The boys adjusted themselves pretty well and played consistently both ways," he stated. TCU played the breaks and a strong punting game to defeat Kansas 13-0.

Grid Brownies' Cuts May Hit Bruney, Carter

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio State's Fred Bruney and Willie Carter, who have been trying to win backfield jobs with the Cleveland Browns, probably will be among six Brownies to be cut from the squad by tomorrow morning

The National Football League's deadline for clubs to reduce rosters to 33 players comes at 10 a.m. tomorrow, and last night Coach Paul Brown still was pondering upon which six athletes to release.

Veteran guard Lum Houston, one of the Browns' eight old men from the original team of 1946, also appears unlikely to survive the cut. Houston announced an intention to retire at the season's start, then changed his mind and reported to the Browns' training camp at Hiram Rookie Gene Donaldson of Kentucky has put in a strong bid for the guard spot.

End George Young another player in his eighth season with the Browns, showed up well in Saturday night's 21-13 victory over the Green Bay Packers and may be able to beat out rookie Bob Schneider of Bowling Green.

Clarence (Ace) Parker, assistant football coach and head baseball mentor at Duke, led Blue Devil grid teams in scoring in 1935 and 1936.

Los Angeles Rolls By Steelers 49-6

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dick Lane, Tom Fears and Dan Towler scored two touchdowns apiece yesterday as the Los Angeles Rams trampled the Pittsburgh Steelers 49-6 in their National Football League exhibition game.

The Rams were equally successful on the ground and in the air as they scored in every period but the second when Ben Agajanian, who connected for seven conversions, missed on a 32-yard field goal try.

The win gave the Rams a record of three won and three lost in exhibition play while the Steelers have won three and dropped four.

Blanda, O'Connell Passes Sink Cards

CHICAGO (AP)—Touchdown passes by veteran George Blanda and Rookie Tommy O'Connell enabled the Chicago Bears to defeat the Chicago Cardinals 14-13 yesterday in a National Football League exhibition.

With the Bears leading 7-6, O'Connell stepped off the bench late in the third period to complete seven passes in a 70-yard touchdown drive before 25,840 fans. The payoff came on a 14 yard pass to halfback Jim Dooley in the final quarter.

Blanda put the Bears ahead in the first period with a 13-yard touchdown pass to end Bill McColl.

Field goals in the second and third periods by Don Paul kept Cardinals hopes alive until O'Connell came in with his dazzling exhibition.

Golfing Group Set To Select U.S. Cup Squad

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The United States Golf Association now has the annual task of picking a "cup" team for men's international play. And, from the results of the 1953 National Amateur Championship, some players who defended the Walker Cup against Britain early this month may be in for a surprise when the team is chosen to play Mexico and Canada for the Americas Cup next summer.

There's no question, of course, about the new champion, Gene Littler. He's in any time the Navy will let him out to play golf.

This rather shy Navy airman from San Diego, Calif., probably is the best amateur golfer today.

He plays the same kind of steady, thoughtful golf as Ben Hogan.

The hitch in Littler's case is that he still has 15 months to serve in his navy enlistment.

Dale Morey, whose biggest ambition now is to make the Walker Cup team, hardly can be overlooked for next year's lesser cup competition. He matched Littler, hole for hole, before losing on the tense 36th.

After these two, there's no telling how the other successful players in the 53rd championship will stack up a year from now. The others Don Albert of Purdue and Bruce Cudd of Portland University, Ted Richards Jr., the national public links champion; Bobby Kuntz, Larchmont, N Y.; Angelo Santilli, East Greenwich, R. I. and Ray Palmer, Detroit.

Except Littler, the 1953 Walker Cuppers who went the farthest were ex-champion Sam Urzetta, Jim Jackson, Bill Campbell, and the No. 1 alternate, Arnold Blum.

University Head At Cincinnati Hits Kinsey's Reports

CINCINNATI (AP)—The president of the University of Cincinnati today attacked the Kinsey reports on sexual behavior as materialistic and unscientific.

President Raymond Walters in his welcoming speech to freshmen students did not mention Dr. Alfred Kinsey by name, but his reference to the Indiana University zoologist was obvious.

"We are in the midst of shrewdly planned advance publicity for a report of a study of sexual behavior," Dr. Walters said. "I suggest that it is the manner of pseudo-science, not true science, to release findings and comments to the public before presentation to the scientific world."

He said if newspaper summaries of the work were correct, "this report is not scientifically authentic."

Marion County Men Save Life Of Young Deer

A young buck deer can thank a Marion County farmer and O. H Neimeyer, county game protector for being alive today.

The deer, thought to be around six months old, was found in a weakened condition, near death, Saturday morning on the John Edler farm, a mile northeast of Moral.

Neimeyer said Edler carried the animal to his barn, covered it in an attempt to keep it warm. He then called the game protector. Neimeyer found the deer had become tangled in a wire fence on the farm and was unable to free itself. It had been hanging by the rear legs for sometime when found by Edler. A cut on the right rear leg was dry and the deer's body had become numb.

Neimeyer removed the animal to a veterinarian for proper treatment and the animal is expected to recover.

Several hunters have reported seeing deer in Marion County, Neimeyer reported.

The population of the United States is increasing at the rate of 1.7 per cent per year.

Braves Close Home Play With Attendance Record

By JOE REICHLER

Attention, American League club owners!

When you convene next Sunday to discuss the Browns' proposed transfer, it might be well to adopt the following slogan.

"Remember the Braves."

It is doubtful if this amazing story—the Braves shift from Boston to Milwaukee and the tremendous loyalty of the baseball-happy Milwaukee fans—will ever be forgotten.

In its first major league baseball season in half a century, Milwaukee established a new National League attendance record when 1,826,397 cash customers came out to root their beloved Braves into second place. There is no doubt that the almost daily capacity crowds had much to do with the Braves' surprising showing. Even their most ardent admirers didn't dare hope for anything higher than fourth.

Although yesterday's games had no bearing on the final standings, a capacity crowd of 36,011 — one person for every seat in County Stadium—watched the Braves split a doubleheader with Cincinnati Rookie Joey Jay, making his first major league start, shut out the Redlegs 3-0 in an abbreviated seven-inning nightcap after Cincinnati had won the opener 5-3.

The doubleheader, which concluded the club's home games for the year, enabled the Braves to shatter the old league attendance mark of 1,807,526 set by the pennant winning Dodgers of 1947. The only second place club ever to draw more than the current Braves were the 1950 Detroit Tigers, who drew 1,951,474. Briggs stadium seats 52,954 to 36,011 for Milwaukee.

It might be well for the American League club owners to remember that practically this same Braves team drew 281,278 in Boston last year, an attendance just about duplicated by the '53 Browns in St Louis.

With the pennant races decided days ago, attention was focused on individual performance yesterday. Virgil Trucks became the fourth American League pitcher to win 20 games this year when he hurled the White Sox to a 5-2 victory as Chicago swept a doubleheader from the St. Louis Browns. Bob Keegan, 32-year-old righthander, pitched his second successive three-hit shutout 4-0 in the opener.

Gus Zernial walloped homers Nos 40 and 41 to help Philadelphia win two games from Washington 13-9 and 4-3. Zernial wrested the American League lead from Cleveland's Al Rosen. Joe de Maestro singled in the winning run in the 11th inning of the nightcap.

Billy Martin's three-run homer highlighted a five-run sixth inning that gave Eddie Ford his 18th victory and the New York Yankees a 10-8 slugfest victory over the Boston. Ford was shelled from the mound when the Red Sox got five runs in their half of the sixth but fine relief hurling by Johnny Sains preserved his lead.

Mike Garcia also won his 18th game pitching Cleveland to a 6-3 triumph over Detroit after the Tigers had taken the opener 8-6.

Stan Musial, battling against long odds to retain his batting championship, cracked out a single, triple and his 28th home run in four times at bat to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to an 11-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Musial is now hitting .330, 14 points below National League leader Carl Furillo of Brooklyn.

The pennant winning Dodgers divided a twin bill with Philadelphia, winning the opener 5-4 and losing the second 2-1.

Cal Abrams hit a grandslam home run that gave Pittsburgh an 8-4 triumph over the New York Giants.

Eddie Mathews committed two errors that gave Cincinnati four unearned runs in the Redlegs' 5-3 first game victory over Milwaukee.

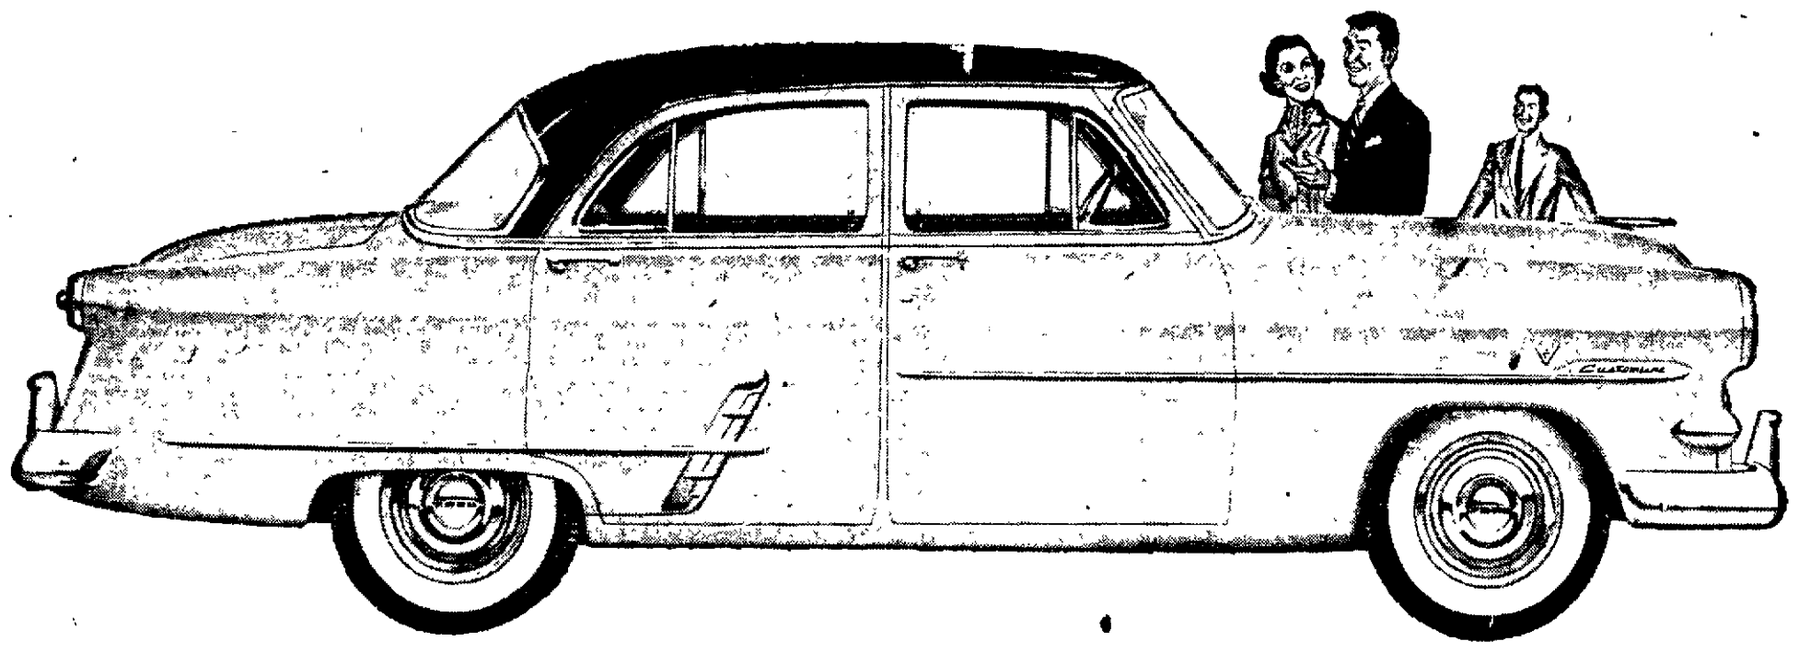
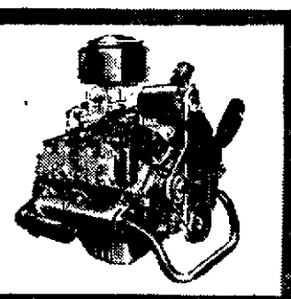
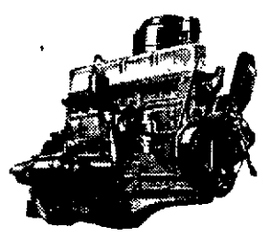
Ford delivers the most for the money!



Such "Worth More" features as Ford's gas-saving Automatic Power Pilot, suspended pedals, foam-rubber cushions on all seats and tailored-to-model front springs are standard with all Fords. You don't pay one cent extra for them! And only Ford in its field has them.

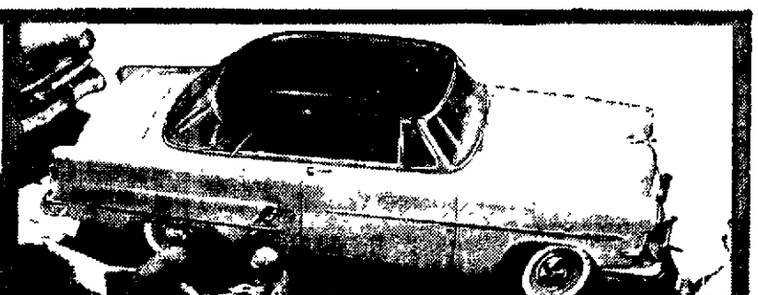


Ford's V-8 is the only V-8 in the low-price field, the same type powering the costliest cars.



Ford's Six is America's most modern . . . yet it's priced with the ordinary (and outmoded) sixes.*

A Fordomatic Ford is the lowest-priced car you can buy with a completely automatic transmission.



Ford Master-Guide is the last word in power steering. It's so easy to operate, so economical to own. Does up to 75% of the work for you—yet costs up to $40 less than any other power steering in the low-price field.

Ever wonder why you see so many new Fords on the road? The answer is simple. Plenty of shrewd folks these days know that Ford delivers the most for the money.

For instance, compare Ford's fine-car build and Full-Circle Visibility with any car at any price. Then Test Drive a Ford. Give it the "works" . . . rough roads, steep hills. Feel how smoothly Ford's new ride irons out the bumps. Feel the way your Ford high-compression engine takes grades with a hushed purr you can scarcely hear. Then compare the prices.

And here's your final proof that Ford offers the most for the money: a survey of used car prices shows that year-old Fords hang onto their value better than any other cars!
